Mission Statement

The New Jersey Junior Breeders' Fund is looking to future generations of agricultural education/FFA students and 4-H members to continue to advance the breeding of purebred livestock and the production quality of grade livestock. In doing so, we are offering loans to help agricultural education/FFA students and 4-H members of the state carry out this goal.

SECTION I - APPLICANTS

1:1 ELIGIBILITY Applicants for loans must reside within the State of New Jersey and have adequate facilities for caring for the livestock. An applicant must be either a 4-H member or a student of agricultural education/FFA. Any active member of a 4-H club may apply for a loan.

1:2 MEMBERSHIP Every borrower who secures a loan from the New Jersey Junior Breeders' Fund, Inc., becomes a member of the New Jersey Junior Breeders' Fund. This membership continues for three years provided the borrower continues to own the original animal or animals or their progeny. Membership is terminated if a borrower reaches the maximum age limit for 4-H club membership or agricultural education/FFA membership.

All members of the New Jersey Junior Breeders' Fund shall have equal standing. Those borrowers who join through the Rutgers Cooperative Extension shall remain under the supervision of the county 4-H agent or the county agricultural agent until their loans are paid even though they enter agricultural education/FFA classes during this period. Agricultural education/FFA students shall likewise continue under the supervision of the agricultural teacher until their loans are paid even though they may also become members of the 4-H clubs. However, transfer of supervisory responsibility, in instances where projects are transferred from one program to the other, will be acceptable to the Fund provided it is approved by the club agent and teacher involved. In the event that such transfer is not approved by either party, renegotiation of the loan may be required.

1:3 APPLICATION All Applications for a loan shall be made to the county 4-H agent or to the borrower's agriculture education teacher. County 4-H agents and agricultural education/FFA teachers shall review loan applications very carefully. Borrowers and their families will be kept aware of their responsibilities to the Fund.

When an application for a loan has been approved and satisfactory livestock has been found, the following shall be submitted to the management of the Fund: the borrower's co-signed promissory note, application-recommendation-bill of sale form, and emergency fee. Upon receipt of these papers, the management will make payment to the seller. A copy of the registration papers or pure bred grade identification papers shall be on file with the loan papers.

The promissory note and emergency coverage shall date from the time of delivery of the livestock to the borrower. If livestock under the required minimum age is purchased, the emergency fee shall be dated as of the day when the minimum age is attained. All responsibility for the livestock in case of loss prior to the required minimum age will be borne by the borrower. The Emergency coverage will end on the date that the loan is due.

The full responsibility for payment of the loan rests upon the borrower, irrespective of the success of the project.

In the event a loan is not paid in full by the end of the loan period, the NJ Junior Breeder Program may deny any additional loan applications from that person.

SECTION II - LOANS - GENERAL

2:1 AMOUNT The maximum amount that may be loaned is established for each type of loan. The total amount outstanding for any borrower, except in the case of steer loans, may not exceed an established maximum. The amount loaned may not exceed the price paid for livestock.
