NEW JERSEY DEPARTMENT OF CHILDREN AND FAMILIES

The State department of Children and Families (DCF), division of Child Protection and Permanency (CP&P) investigates all reports of child abuse and neglect. The State institutional Abuse investigation Unit (IAIU) addresses abuse and neglect allegations that take place in foster care settings, congregate care, schools, camps, child care centers, and other settings.

As of April 2013, new regulations took effect modifying the department of Children and Families' findings following child abuse and neglect investigations. Previously, DCF had two finding categories, "Unfounded" and "Substantiated." The new four-tier system has the following findings:

· Substantiated: A preponderance of the evidence establishes that a child is an abused or neglected child as defined by statute; and either the investigation indicates the existence of any of the specified absolute conditions; or substantiation is warranted based on consideration of the aggravating and mitigating factors.

· Established: A preponderance of the evidence establishes that a child is an abused or neglected child as defined by statute; but the act or acts committed or omitted do not warrant a finding of substantiation upon consideration of aggravating and mitigating factors.

· Not Established: There is not a preponderance of the evidence that the child is an abused or neglected child as defined by statute, but evidence indicates that the child was harmed or placed at risk of harm.

· Unfounded: There is not a preponderance of the evidence indicating that a child is an abused or neglected child as defined by statute, and the evidence indicates that a child was not harmed or placed at risk of harm.

This new system allows for more specific investigation finding categories to more appropriately reflect the particular circumstances present in each investigation, allowing for better partnership with families and better outcomes for children. This change also provides fairness in the operation of the Child Abuse Record information System and allows DCF to better protect children by requiring the maintenance of all records where children were harmed or exposed to risk of harm, even where the statutory definition of child abuse or neglect could not be met.

Both the findings of "Substantiated" and "Established" indicate a child as a victim of abuse or neglect as defined by statute. This report combines these two findings when reporting "Victims" of child abuse and neglect. With the implementation of the four-tier system, an increase in the number of child victims was anticipated.
