

Draft EMP Comments Jeanne Fox

Dear Draft EMP Comments Fox,

I am a grandmother who believes strongly that we owe future generations a world that is self sufficient in power. Harnessing solar and wind power is something we MUST do.

Renewable energy is the future that we need to address now. There is a timeline here that cannot be ignored, we are running out fossil fuel and need to find a way to replace it. We need to step up to the plate and produce renewable energy like solar and wind power.

I am not a politician, or a math professor, but common sense will tell you that this is a win-win situation. Building the facilities for renewable energy and focusing on other ways to provide affordable energy will not only help future generations but would also provide employment opportunities for New Jersey workers.

Sincerely,
