I. PROFILE OF RAMAPO COLLEGE OF NEW JERSEY

Ranked by U.S. News & World Report as Sixth in the “Best Regional Public Colleges & Universities North” category, and also cited for excellence by Kiplinger’s magazine and The Princeton Review. Ramapo College of New Jersey is sometimes mistaken for a private college. This is, in part, due to its unique interdisciplinary academic structure, its fall 2014 enrollment of approximately 6,000 students, and its pastoral setting in the foothills of the Ramapo Mountains on the New Jersey/New York border. Its designation as New Jersey’s “public liberal arts college” by the State legislature declares the Public College’s commitment to affordable, undergraduate and graduate, liberal arts education.

The Public College is located in Mahwah Township, in northwestern Bergen County. The barrier-free campus occupies 300 acres. Facilities include general classrooms, laboratories, academic buildings, an administration building, library, a center for fine and performing arts, a sports and recreation center, campus life buildings, a spiritual center, athletic fields, dining halls, student apartments and residence halls.

Increasingly, the Public College is attracting students with higher class ranking, SAT scores and grade point averages. Many of these students are selecting the Public College as their first choice school. For the fall 2014 semester, 53% of freshmen applicants were accepted. The average combined-SAT score (critical reading and math) for regular-admit degree-seeking freshmen was 1162. The average combined-SAT score for all degree-seeking freshmen who enrolled, including Educational Opportunity Fund and special admit students, was 1096.

The Public College’s mission is focused on its four “pillars” of education: international, intercultural, interdisciplinary and experiential, all of which are incorporated throughout the curriculum and co-curricular activities. The international mission is further accomplished through an emphasis on global programs such as faculty/student exchanges.

Organized into five interdisciplinary schools offering more than 40 undergraduate and graduate degree programs, the Public College’s offerings are complemented by lectures, performances, and off-campus experiences. The Public College offers bachelor degrees in the arts, business, the humanities, the social sciences, and the sciences, as well as in professional studies such as nursing, social work and teacher education. Eight programs are currently offered leading to a master’s degree: Master of Arts in Educational Leadership (MAEL), Master of Arts in Liberal Studies (MALS), Master of Arts in Sustainability Studies (MASS), Master of Science in Educational Technology (MSET), Master of Science in Nursing (MSN), Master of Business Administration (MBA), Master of Arts in Special Education (MASE), and Master of Social Work (MSW). The Public College has joint degree programs with Rutgers Biomedical and Health Sciences in Allied Health Technologies, Clinical Laboratory Science and Medical Imaging Science and has a dual enrollment program with Seton Hall University’s School of Law. The Public College maintains articulation agreements with other participating institutions with programs in Physician Assistant, Biomedical Informatics, Physical Therapy, Chiropractic, Dentistry, Optometry, and Podiatric Medicine, and other professional fields.

An important key to the Public College's strategy has been the building of partnerships with members of the college community, the surrounding communities, the state, high schools, other colleges, and domestic and international corporations. Faculty have been successful in obtaining major grants from state, national, and international sources to support scholarship, partnerships, curriculum improvements, seminars and conferences. Their efforts have brought recognition in the form of Fulbright Awards and Guggenheim Fellowships, major National Science Foundation and National Endowment for the Arts grants, international presentations, and numerous prestigious awards.

The Public College is currently undertaking a number of capital projects that will improve the quality of campus life and the teaching and learning environment, and completed the following projects in calendar year 2014:

- Baseball and Softball Field Scoreboards; New Flagpole
- Phase II Housing (College Park Apartments) -- Exterior Renovations, Heating and Cooling System Replacement
- Phase I Academic Building, Wings A and B -- Second Floor Renovations
- Phase III Academic Building (Wing G) -- Renovations, Third and Fourth Floors
- Site Utility Survey
- Re-Roofing -- Academic Buildings, Phase IV Housing (Linden Hall)
- Central Heating and Cooling Plant Boiler Replacement
- Anisfield School of Business -- Installation of New Chiller

The Public College is a signatory to the American College and University Presidents' Climate Commitment and its solar power and other initiatives are helping achieve the objective of carbon neutrality as soon as feasible.

Fall 2014 semester solicited almost 6,700 applications from new freshmen, of whom 53% were admitted to the college. Roughly 27 percent of those admitted (978) eventually enrolled at the college.

Among all undergraduates, over 17 percent joined the institution for the first-time and roughly 11 percent transferred to Ramapo from another institution.

C. 2. Characteristics of New Students

Of the 978 new students who enrolled in fall 2014, over 78 percent were regular admit students, almost 12 percent were Educational Opportunity Fund (EOF) and the remaining 10 percent were special admits.

Incoming students at Ramapo were tested on Accuplacer to identify if they needed remediation in the areas of Reading, Writing or Mathematics. About 5 percent of the undergraduates required remediation in at least one area, i.e., computation, algebra, reading, or writing.

Almost 22 percent of the first-time, full-time students required remediation in one or more areas of remediation. A significantly higher proportion of them required remediation in computation (almost 14 percent) compared to those requiring remediation in algebra (almost 4 percent), and reading and writing (over 3 percent each).
