Veterans Remembrance Day event

The New Jersey Vietnam Veterans' Memorial Foundation will hold its annual New Jersey Vietnam Veterans Remembrance Day ceremony Monday, May 7 at 11 a.m.

Created by legislation in 1991, May 7 is a unique day in New Jersey to honor all those who served in the military during the Vietnam Era from 1959 to 1975. More than 200,000 New Jersey residents served in the armed forces during that time.

In addition to being this year's keynote speaker, Brig. Gen. Michael L. Cunniff, The Adjutant General, New Jersey Department of Military and Veterans Affairs, will honor numerous veterans for their service by presenting New Jersey state military awards.

Admission is free for all visitors on May 7, and the Vietnam Era Museum & Educational Center will open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. The museum is located adjacent to the New Jersey Vietnam Veterans' Memorial off the Garden State Parkway at exit 116 in Holmdel. The Memorial is open 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. The Vietnam Era Museum & Educational Center is open Tuesday through Saturday, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Veterans civil rights seminar

The New Jersey Attorney General's Office in partnership with The American Legion will conduct a regional Veterans' Civil Rights seminar, on May 19, from 1- 3 p.m., at the New Jersey Veterans Memorial Home at Paramus.

All veterans, family members, and veteran service organizations are invited to attend. There will be other veteran-related support groups present to provide information and services. Light refreshments will be provided by The American Legion of Bergen County.

The event is part of a continuing Division on Civil Rights initiative designed to help those who have served in the military, and upon returning to civilian life, encountered discrimination in the workplace and elsewhere.

If you have any general questions pertaining to this seminar, please call Bob Looby, The American Legion's Coordinator, on 908-894-0746. You may also contact the Newark Attorney General's office at 973- 648-4826.

JB MDL Exchange committed to offering best possible price

According to a recent article by PC World, more than half of U.S. adult mobile phones owners used a handset for shopping assistance while in stores during the 2011 holiday season. Additionally, a quarter of these shoppers went online to see if they could find a better price for a product they were considering buying.

With smart phones becoming more prevalent as shopping tools, price matching is becoming increasingly popular. With this in mind, the Army & Air Force Exchange Service's "We'll Match It!" program is ensuring military shoppers at Joint Base McGuire-Dix-Lakehurst pay the lowest price possible.

Depending on the item, price matches can be done with or without a competitor's ad: A price difference of less than $10 is matched on the spot or a pricing discrepancy greater than $10 are matched with a current local competitor's ad.

Of course, in either scenario, products must be identical.

"We even offer a 14-day price guarantee on any item originally purchased from the Exchange," said the Joint Base MDL Exchange manager, Lee Morris. "So, if an item is sold at a lower price by the Exchange, or any local competitor, the price can be matched up to two weeks after the purchase."

The Exchange Catalog and shopmyexchange.com also match lower prices (including shipping and handling) from other online retailers on identical items available for sale and delivery in the customer's area.

Complete details regarding the Exchange's price matching policy as well as exceptions can be found at <http://www.shopmyexchange.com/CustomerService/priceMatch.htm>.
