New program provides legal representation to low-income veterans

Legal Services of New Jersey has launched the Veterans Legal Assistance Project to provide legal representation to eligible low-income veterans with VA disability compensation and pension claims.

Melville D. Miller, Jr., the organization's president said that while many organizations advocate on behalf of veterans, few can offer legal help with the complicated VA claims process.

"Having skilled legal counsel greatly improves veterans' ability to secure the benefits they are due," Miller said.

According to the U.S. Government Accountability Office, it takes an average of 280 days to process a veteran's initial claim and more than 18 months to resolve an appeal. More than 100,000 claims decided each year are eventually reversed after an initial adverse determination. It is projected that veterans of the wars in Iraq and Afghanistan will file more than 600,000 new disability claims over the next five years.

Initially the project will be staffed by Mary Acevedo, an LSNJ senior attorney. Because of limited funding, full representation will only be provided in disability claims, but telephone advice will be offered for other legal issues commonly faced by veterans.

"LSNJ has developed successful systems and strategies for securing disability benefits for clients," said Kevin Liebkemann, an LSNJ senior attorney who has led the design of the new project. "When we looked at the increasing number of veterans with disabilities who need legal help, we saw that a project to serve those veterans is something we could – and should – do."

Legal Services' has wide-ranging expertise and experience in housing, family law, health care access, consumer issues, education, and workers' rights, and aims to ultimately provide veterans comprehensive legal help in those other areas, Miller said.

Those seeking help from the veterans legal assistance project should go to the www.LSNJLAW.org Web site, or call LSNJ's toll-free, statewide legal hotline, 1-888-LSNJ-LAW (1-888-576-5529). Those outside New Jersey should call 732-572-9100 and ask to be transferred to the hotline. Services are provided at no charge, but all clients must be financially eligible (below 200 percent of the federal poverty level) and representation is not guaranteed.

CFC launches: I Care - Now More Than Ever campaign

From the desk of Jo Anne Miller, CFC Coordinator

The New Jersey National Guard Combined Federal Campaign (CFC) has officially kicked off its 2009 Campaign which will run until Dec. 5.

The CFC provides each of us with an annual opportunity to voluntarily help others and ourselves by donating to the community, national and international level human, health and environmental organizations. Contributions may be made via easy payroll deductions each year or by check.

Over the years, our Department has been most successful in this endeavor because of your personal generosity and concern. We urge every employee to support this worthy cause. Catalogs and payroll deduction forms will be going out to all full time federal technicians and AGRs.

The CFC Coordinator for this year's Combined Federal Campaign is Jo Anne Miller, of the J1-HRO Office. For more information, please call 609-562-0851.

Happy Thanksgiving.

New GI Bill carries different eligibility, many benefits

By Sgt. 1st Class Kryn P. Westhoven, JFHQ-PA

About two dozen Soldiers filled the conference room at Joint Forces Headquarters on Tuesday night eager to hear how their recent deployment could mobilize their education opportunities through the state and federal education programs.

The overview of the federal Veterans Administration latest GI Bill was provided by Capt. Ben Stoner of the New Jersey Army National Guard's Education Office. Stoner called Chapter 1607, the new Post 9-11 program, transformational and how it is the biggest change in the funding of post-secondary learning since the original GI Bill after World War II.

Unlike Montgomery GI bill programs, Chapter 1607 provides three separate types of benefit payments to those who have at least 90 days of aggregate active service after Sept. 10, 2001.

The VA will directly pay schools for tuition and fees equal to what each state's most expensive state-run school charges for in-state, undergraduate study.

The students who are attending school more than halftime, seven credits or more, and are physically in a classroom setting at least for one course per semester are entitled to a monthly basic housing allowance for an E-5 with dependents for the zip code the school is located.

The third benefit is a stipend of up to $1,000 a year for books and supplies.

Service members with 36 or more months of active duty will receive 100 percent of the three payments and those with less than three-years will receive a prorated amount. For example the majority of the 50th Infantry Brigade Combat Team Soldiers would be at the 60 percent level for the 12 plus-month deployment.

Three schools participated in the College/Career Night with representatives of Peirce College, Roger Williams University and Thomas Edison State College. For more information contact the state Education Office at 1-888-859-5999 or 609-562-0711 or visit them on the web at www.nj.gov/military/education/index.html.

DMAVA Green

By Tech. Sgt. Barb Harbison, Public Affairs Specialist

In my search for a topic for this week's column, I came across an interesting concept and Web site that carries out the idea. Mail "The Green Thing" your single gloves – you know the ones, like the socks that get lost in the dryer, you end up with a single glove or mitten and really dislike throwing away a perfectly good glove in case you find its mate.

Here you are, a year or two later and you have never found the mate to that lone glove. Well, throw it in the wash, print the form that can be found on the site and mail both to the organization. They will match up the gloves and sell the natty new pairs, giving the proceeds to charity.

To read more about the way to provide a new fashion look and to keep hands warm, visit <http://www.dothegreenthing.com/shop>.

Then, I found a column from "Planet Green," about the surprising places you would find oil. One of them is pantyhose – if it will save the planet, I will gratefully give up wearing pantyhose for the rest of my life.

Other interesting or surprising places the author, Rachel Cernansky, noted you would find oil as a key ingredient include: chewing gum, hair dye, asphalt, crayons, ink, heart valves, pillows, aspirin, ammonia, toothpaste, toothbrushes, guitar strings, shoe polish, tape, rubbing alcohol, vitamin capsules, caulk, deodorant and glue.

I can give up or cut down on some of them, but others will take much research and testing to find a good substitute!

Want to save a few bucks on your electric bill? Unplug your cell phone charger when not in use. A simple way to save energy in your home is by unplugging your phone charger when your phone is fully charged. "Two-thirds of the energy consumed by a mobile phone during its usage is lost when the phone is fully charged and unplugged but the charger is left connected to the outlet," according to Nokia.

Keep Green!

Dates set for Strong Bonds, Marriage Enrichment weekends

For those Soldiers who recently returned from deployment – how about a great weekend to “reconnect” with your spouse? Why not try Strong Bonds AKA Marriage Enrichment? The critiques are 99 percent positive overall on the effect the weekend has had with insight to marriages. This is NOT a counseling weekend.

Upcoming weekends will be Feb. 12-14, April 9-11 and May 14-16.

This is for couples who have not had the opportunity to attend in the past. If you are interested, contact Marie Durling at marie.durling@us.army.mil, or 609-530-6884 for an application form.

Registration Forms will be checked to see if you did attend previously. If you attended over two years ago, you may fill one out for the waiting list. With the return of the IBCT, we want to make sure the soldiers who have not attended have the opportunity to do so.

Soldiers are required to attend the entire weekend and ALL sessions in order to receive a SUTA certificate. Dress code is casual for the entire weekend. We do not provide child care. This is a couples' weekend.

More information will be mailed to you approximately 30 days before your event weekend with details.

Mullen sends thanks during Military Family Week

From Admiral M.G. Mullen, Chairman, Joint Chiefs of Staff

As we count our blessings this month, America's Soldiers, Sailors, Marines, Airmen and Coast Guardsmen serve day and night around the globe to defend our Nation. We are all very proud of them, and yet we should never forget that none of them do it alone. The extraordinary families who support them sacrifice every bit as much to make their service possible. In the spirit of giving thanks, we devote this week to honor and appreciate our military families.

Our families serve as the bedrock for our Nation's defense. Family members may not shoulder a weapon, drive a ship or fly combat sorties, but their commitment, support and endurance is a source of great pride and inspiration for us all. From care packages to emails to invaluable friendship, your love and devotion helps our forces do their very best. I can think of no better words to express this than those spoken by a Soldier from the 25th Infantry Division upon his return from Afghanistan. Reflecting on his family's help while deployed, he said “just receiving letters... seems to give you the motivation needed to stay upbeat.... I couldn't do this without your support.”

Our combat readiness stems from readiness at home, and America's might is a reflection of the power of military families.

As a Nation, we can certainly never say or do enough to express our gratitude for their devotion and sacrifice, but this week is one way in which we show our appreciation.

On behalf of my family and those of the Joint Chiefs, to all our military families, past and present, we thank you for your service and for your love. Our Nation's strength and honor depend upon you. Because of you, we truly accomplish far more than we ever could alone.

Holiday Mail for Heroes program launches for 2009

In this season of hope and giving the American Red Cross and Pitney Bowes, Inc. have joined forces to invite Americans to "send a touch of home" to United States service members and veterans across the country and abroad. In its third year, the Holiday Mail for Heroes program is an opportunity to share joy and thanks with our service members throughout the holiday season by way of a greeting card.

Today more than 1.4 million men and women serve in the U.S. armed forces and over 24 million veterans have served in the past. The holiday season is the perfect time to honor and extend a warm holiday greeting to those who've served and continue to do so.

How Holiday Mail works

We have established an extensive process to ensure all cards sent to our service members are safe and arrive in time for the holidays. Holiday cards will be collected through a unique P.O. Box address from Nov. 2 through Dec. 7.

First, cards from across the nation must be sent to this address:

Holiday Mail for Heroes

P.O. Box 5456

Capitol Heights, MD 20791-5456

Every card received will be screened for hazardous materials by Pitney Bowes and distributed to participating Red Cross chapters nationwide. Once the cards arrive at the Red Cross chapters, they are sorted and reviewed by volunteers who then distribute them to service members, their families and veterans in communities across the country.

Please don't forget to follow these guidelines while preparing your holiday greetings!

Do...

- Sign all cards
- Entitle cards "Dear Service Member, Family or Veteran"
- Send holiday-neutral cards rather than those with religious themes
- Limit cards to 15 per person or 50 for school class or business group
- Bundle groups of cards in single, large envelopes

Don't...

- Send letters
- Include personal information such as home or email addresses
- Use glitter – excessive amounts can aggravate health issues of wounded recipients
- Include inserts of any kind as they must be removed in the screening process
