Battlemind supports Soldiers, families through deployment cycle

Battlemind is a term used to describe combat readiness. The first Battlemind product was a mental health post-deployment briefing. It quickly became a training system supporting Soldiers and families across the seven phases of the deployment cycle. The Battlemind system includes separate pre-deployment training modules for Soldiers, unit leaders, health-care providers and spouses. Psychological debriefings are given in theater and upon redeployment. There is also a post-deployment module for spouses and several post-deployment modules for Soldiers. Pre-deployment Battlemind tells Soldiers what they are likely to see, to hear, to think and to feel while deployed - by describing the worst-case scenario. Post-deployment Battlemind addresses safety concerns, relationship issues, normalized combat-related mental health reactions and symptoms -- along with teaching Soldiers when they should seek mental health support for themselves or for their buddies. All of the Battlemind products (training modules, brochures, debriefings and videos are available on the Web site, www.battlemind.org.

Order a complimentary Blue Star Flag to show your family's service

From the desk of retired Command Sgt. Maj. Mike Hughes, Family Assistance Specialist

The Blue Star Flag first appeared in 1917, when Capt. Robert L. Queissner, who had two sons serving on the front line, designed it as a tribute to their dedication and service. He proudly displayed this flag in the front window of his home and the flag quickly became the unofficial symbol of a child in the service. Also known as a Service Flag, the blue star stands for hope and pride. Order a complimentary Blue Star Flag to honor your loved ones in the service by visiting: www.grantham.edu/promo/freebluestar.php.

Association News

Enlisted Association wants YOU!

By retired Command Sgt. Maj. Mike Hughes, EANG-NJ

The Enlisted Association National Guard-New Jersey is off to a good start for 2008 as we have realigned all the committees and filled both the Executive Council and Committees with a cross section of Army and Air, uniformed and retirees, and several junior NCOs. Everyone appears to be enthused and pledges to support the Association in all its efforts. All we need now is for you to get on board as a member and bring your fellow soldiers and airmen with you.

We have many challenges facing us over the next few years whether it is another round of base closures via the Base Realignment Commission (BRAC), reduction in TRICARE benefits, reduction in troop strength, attempts to maintain the retirement age at 60, etc. We need a powerful voice to put our message across to the State and Federal Legislators and this can only be accomplished through a strong membership in our State Association (EANG-NJ) and the National Association (EANGUS).

The new membership year starts on 1 January 2008 and we need your help in making our Association grow. We encourage all enlisted soldiers and airmen to join the Association as Active Members and also welcome all officers, warrant officers, federal, and state employees to join as Associate Members. Applications for membership can be obtained from our website www.eang-nj.org.

N.J. Vietnam Veterans Memorial

N.J. Vietnam Veterans' Memorial and Vietnam Era Educational Center's upcoming events:

"Bullets and Bandages" author will speak on Flag Day

On Flag Day, Saturday, June 14, at 1 p.m., the New Jersey Vietnam Veterans' Memorial Foundation will host an author lecture and book discussion by New Jersey native Robert Saniscalchi about his novel, Bullets and Bandages, a story surrounding a young medic in Vietnam. This program will be held at the Vietnam Era Educational Center in Holmdel, NJ.

Robert Saniscalchi and his brother Patrick were born and raised in New Jersey. Patrick entered the Army at age 19 and was soon serving as an Army combat medic in Vietnam. As Patrick's tour of duty is the inspiration for Robert's novel, he will join in this special discussion. Bullets and Bandages is based on true events from Patrick's tour as the medic for B Company, 4th Battalion, 21st Infantry Regiment of the 23rd Infantry "Americal" Division, from 1968 to 1969. Those two years saw the most intense fighting out of all the 15 years of America's direct involvement in the war in Vietnam, keeping medics, like Patrick, busy tending to the battlefield wounded. Patrick, nicknamed "Pat the Cat," was part of an elite rescue and reconnaissance platoon working in the area around Danang, South Vietnam. While a fictional account of a young man's tour of duty in Vietnam, Bullets and Bandages accurately describes the problems faced by military personnel assigned to fight the Viet Cong and the heartbreaks suffered from the loss of comrades. It explains why many veterans feel changed when they return home and why a lot of them never talk about these experiences.

Robert Saniscalchi currently resides with his family in Blandon, Penn., and is a licensed electrician and a writer. Two of his essays, "The Link Between Iraq and Vietnam" and "In Freedom's Light," have been published by Amazon Shorts.

Lecture attendees are asked to RSVP to (732) 335-0033. A donation of $5 per person is suggested. The Vietnam Era Educational Center is located adjacent to the New Jersey Vietnam Veterans' Memorial off the Garden State Parkway at exit 116. The Educational Center is open Tuesday through Saturday, 10 a.m.– 4 p.m. Regular admission is free for veterans and active-duty military personnel. Regular adult admission is $4; student and senior citizen admission is $2; and children under 10 are admitted free.

Free guided tours of the Memorial are offered on the first Saturday of each month at 11 a.m. and 1 p.m.
