If you already have a relationship with Young Audiences of New Jersey & Eastern Pennsylvania, or our regional partner agencies Appel Farm Art and Music Center and Morris Arts, feel free to contact arts education staff at the agency of your choice to inquire about the AIE program.

The Artists in Education Residency Handbook: The Artists in Education Residency Handbook is available online (as a PDF download) at www.njaie.org. This useful resource expands upon the components presented in the AIE Guidelines to offer best practices applicable to any residency. Featuring real-world experiences, it is particularly valuable for AIE grant applicants and both new and experienced residency schools and artists. Teachers, schools and art administrators, site coordinators and artists should use both the AIE Guidelines and the AIE Handbook side by side while developing their residency proposals and as instructional support throughout the entire residency process.

NJSCA Roster Teaching Artists: Schools already working with Teaching Artists on the NJSCA Roster can include them on their steering committee. The steering committee works together to draft the AIE application, including the teaching artist's input on the art form, supply and equipment needs allows for a more comprehensive application. Schools that do not have a preexisting relationship with a NJSCA Roster artist will have the opportunity to interview several NJSCA Roster approved candidates and select their teaching artist after their AIE Grant application is approved.

AIE guidelines and application can be viewed and downloaded online at www.njaie.org or www.artscouncil.nj.gov and in a LARGE PRINT version as well. Contact us if you are in need of special accommodation in filing this AIE grant application at (609) 633-1184.

ABOUT THE ARTISTS IN EDUCATION RESIDENCY GRANT PROGRAM (AIE)

Now in its 44th year, the Artists in Education (AIE) Program, a partnership of New Jersey's professional artists, educators, and leading arts education providers, serves as a national model for effective and successful arts residencies. Experience how an AIE residency can help your school and district fulfill its goals and objectives for student performance, professional development, and community-building in and through the arts. An invaluable arts experience that can help prepare your students for the competitive world of the 21st century is within reach.

The Mission

The mission of the Artists in Education Program is to make the arts a basic part of a sound, quality education for all students Pre-K through 12, and to provide quality professional development for teachers through long-term residencies with professional teaching artists.

AIE PROGRAM GOALS, OBJECTIVES

Goals:

- To make the arts a basic part of a sound, quality education for all students Pre-K through 12
- To assist educators in the development and implementation of innovative arts curriculum.
- To help schools fulfill their own goals and objectives for curriculum, professional development and community connections in and through the arts.
- To aid in the implementation of the Core Curriculum Content Standards in the Visual, Performing and Language Arts Literacy.

Objectives:

- To place the creative process of making art at the center of the residency.
- To focus on engaging students and teachers in the creative process.
- To provide professional development for teachers that can be applied to the NJ Department of Education's requirements for continuing education.
- To develop new skills and knowledge that complements and expands current practice.

The Artists in Education Program is a cosponsored project of Young Audiences New Jersey & Eastern Pennsylvania and the New Jersey State Council on the Arts/Department of State, a Partner Agency of the National Endowment for the Arts.

IMPACT

Here's what schools have to say about the powerful impact AIE residencies have had on students, teachers and school culture:

Increased student self-confidence

“When we reflect on the impact of this AIE residency, we think specifically of certain students who may not have the opportunity to excel in academics. We saw these students come alive in their performances and then carry that high energy into their classwork.”

Mark Quiles, Principal at Seth Boyden Demonstration School in Maplewood

Students stretch, explore, and persevere

“Students learned the discipline of persistence when working on a project, and the importance of personal passion when creating. The presence of professional guest artists through the AIE grants have been invaluable to our educational mission. . .”

Scott Shaw, Supervisor for the Academy for Visual & Performing Arts, Morris County School of Technology in Denville

High-level critical & creative thinking

“Students developed the tools of thinking itself—careful observation of the world, mental representation of what is observed or imagined.... We use these same thinking tools in science, philosophy, math, and history. The advantage of the arts is that they link cognitive growth to social and emotional development. Students care more deeply about what they study.”

Alma Morel, Vice Principal, Thomas Jefferson Middle School in Teaneck

For students and teachers alike

“Our AIE grants play an integral part in developing an environment for professional learning communities (PLC), a state mandate beginning in middle school and continuing through high school (NJAC 6A:8). Schools can use AIE residencies to fulfill their obligation to meet this standard.”

Janice Marsili, Visual Arts teacher, David Brearley Middle/High School, Kenilworth

Increase in positive behavioral and social skills

“The students learned to work together for a common goal. They were able to see the importance of working through the steps to have a final product. Students had an increase in positive behavioral and social skills.”

Janene Askins, Vice Principal, Atlantic County Special Services School District

RESIDENCY GRANTS: AN INTRODUCTION

THE AIE RESIDENCY GRANT

ELIGIBILITY: All New Jersey public, charter, private and parochial schools serving grades Pre-K through 12 are eligible to apply.

INTRODUCTION

The AIE Program places highly qualified professional artists in classrooms throughout the state, presenting students and teachers with the opportunity to engage in and learn about the creative process.

Through the AIE Program, schools design residencies based on their own goals and objectives for curriculum, professional development and community connections. Residencies focus on direct learning about the arts and the process of creating including the skills, techniques and concepts of the art form. An artist in residence can also help classroom teachers with new approaches to traditional subjects through the arts.

Residencies are offered in a wide variety of disciplines and are a minimum of 20 nonconsecutive days. The focus of the residency may be class work with students and/or professional development for school staff.

AIE TEACHING ARTISTS

AIE teaching artists are selected through a rigorous peer panel review process administrated by the New Jersey State Council on the Arts (NJSCA). They are evaluated for both the quality of their artwork and their ability to create lively, substantial and sequential arts programs in an educational setting. Through mentorships and professional development, they learn how to work collaboratively with teachers and administrators and bring the best possible programming to schools. Schools that are not already working with a New Jersey State Council on the Arts Roster teaching artist will interview and select the artist to conduct the residency from the NJSCA Teaching Artist Roster after grant awards are made.

Teaching Artists are required to complete a fingerprint-based background check prior to their work in AIE funded school residency programs.

COMPONENTS OF AN AIE RESIDENCY

A glossary appears at the end of this packet with detailed definitions of terms used here. To ensure a successful residency and help schools attain their goals, schools are asked to:

- Form a Steering Committee to establish goals for the residency and provide support, assistance and resources for the artist. Appoint an Administrative Coordinator, On-Site Coordinator and a Teacher Liaison (if applicable) to lead the project. Steering Committee members, classroom teachers, the AIE Teaching Artist and the AIE Partner work together to plan and implement the residency.

- Hold a Planning Meeting to develop the residency plan and schedule.
- Host a twenty (20+) day residency during the school year; including 17 or more workshop days, a planning day, a culminating event and one post-culminating event reflection day. Each workshop day consists of approximately four consecutive 45-minute class periods plus teaching artists' prep time.
- Provide Publicity to the local press regarding the artist and the AIE residency and introduce the AIE Teaching Artist and the project to the school and community.
- Ensure necessary workspace, appropriate facilities and maintain a productive working environment and collaboration with the teaching artist.
- Provide a Teacher in the classroom to work with the AIE Teaching Artist at all times.
- Work with your AIE Partner and the Teaching Artist to develop and implement a Professional Development Plan for the cooperating teachers.
- Arrange at least one Field Trip and/or schedule a Visiting Artist/Company to enhance the residency.
- Plan to provide Documentation/Evaluation that will be submitted electronically throughout the residency.
- Commit to share your experiences and project with other schools at the End of Year Meeting, held annually in May, and at a meeting of your school board.
- Enroll at least one faculty member in the Artist/Teacher Institute and register the Administrative Coordinator for Administrator's AIE Idea Factory and Grant Orientation at aTi.

Teachers from Ocean Acres Elementary School participate in a creative-movement professional development workshop with Teaching Artist Lela Jones

Artist/Teacher Institute (aTi)

Now in its 41st year, aTi is an exciting and powerful professional development experience in which teachers of all subject areas participate in hands-on art-making workshops with professional working artists. Represented art forms include visual, performing, literary and digital arts and help participants explore their creativity, learn with a community of peers and study with master teaching artists. It is a critical part of preparing for the AIE residency. AIE Residency Grants provide a 75% tuition stipend for one teacher to attend this acclaimed summer institute. Teachers are provided with documentation of up to 40 credit hours of Professional Development. In planning your residency please remember that schools awarded an AIE residency grant must enroll at least one teacher in aTi. Failure to enroll and attend aTi may result in the rescinding of your grant award.

HOW ARE AIE GRANT APPLICATIONS EVALUATED?

AIE Grant Application Review Process

- An independent review panel evaluates applications based on the criteria listed below. The review includes a scoring metric and written panel comments. The comments are written to be constructive and informative for a school applicant. The panel process takes place in March 2016.
- Those schools who score in the top tier in the evaluation are then contacted for a brief follow up interview with AIE staff via conference call. Key members of the school Steering Committee should be available for this interview, which is an opportunity to clarify points that the review panel comments upon, and to ensure readiness. Interviews will take place in April 2016.
- Final award determinations are made based on the panel score, interviews, available funding and Council priorities.

Evaluation Criteria for all AIE Residency Grant Proposals:

- Ability of the proposed residency to augment existing arts curricula.
- Ability of the school to accomplish the residency goals, including space, equipment and support.
- Adequacy of the matching fund requirements and appropriateness of the budget.
- Evidence of administrative and staff support and participation.
- The school's understanding of and commitment to the needs of the artist.
- Applicant's long-term commitment to sustaining the benefits of an AIE residency at its site.

Additional Criteria for Reapplying AIE School Grantees:

- Ability of the proposed residency to effectively build upon past AIE residencies and expand upon and reflect the learning and experience.
- Evidence of a commitment to institutionalize the residency benefits through professional development in past and proposed projects.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Q. What is the size of the Grant?

A. Grants are for up to $7,000. The AIE Residency grant covers NJSCA Roster Teaching Artist fees for 20 residency days and a 75% scholarship (up to $500) for one faculty member to attend aTi.

Q. What are the financial responsibilities of the school/district?

A. The AIE Grant expects schools to match grant funds 3:1. The school/district must provide a financial match of at least one-third of the total grant request (for a $7,000 request, 1/3 would be $1750). Matching funds can be made in cash and/or planned expenditures that already exist in the school budget. Please be sure to include the materials needed for the residency project, teacher release-time and administrator's time in your grant match figure.

Q. What is a School Financial Match and how can schools make a match?

A. The School Financial Match is the dollar amount the school commits to match the AIE grant, to create the Total Project Budget. Schools should anticipate their commitment of teacher and administrator time for meetings and planning, substitute teachers, equipment, supplies, materials and other expenses needed for the AIE Residency project will constitute their school financial match. Schools may also choose to include cash expenditures, such as those for 25% of the teachers' aTi costs, additional residency days, visiting artists, field trips, etc. in their financial match figure. The total of the school match budgeted must be at least 1/3 of the total grant request, and should be spread over the various expenditure categories as appropriate to your residency proposal. Sources of the match funds can include the existing school budget, PTA fundraising, a local bank, etc. Funding sources listed on the grant application should be secured in advance.

Q. How are the grant funds managed?

A. Funds for artist fees are paid directly by the AIE partner to the teaching artist. The school is responsible to manage and track their own spending for equipment, supplies, teacher and administrator time, etc.

Q. Who should write the grant application?

A. The grant application should be developed and written by the Steering Committee, which is composed of teachers, administrators, parents and members of the community. The committee establishes goals based on the school's needs, chooses an artistic discipline for study and experiential exploration, writes and submits the grant application and then implements the residency.

Q. What types of disciplines are available?

A. Residencies are available in the following disciplines: Dance, Music, Theatre, Opera/Music Theatre, Visual Arts, Design Arts, Crafts, Photography, Media Art, Creative Writing*, Interdisciplinary and Folk Arts. Schools already working with a teaching artists who is on the NJSCA Teaching Artist Roster may choose to continue to work with that artist, including them on the steering committee as the grant application is prepared. Otherwise, the school steering committee will interview and select the Teaching Artist to conduct the residency after the grant awards are made. The AIE Partner will help the Steering Committee narrow down choices from the New Jersey State Council on the Arts Teaching Artist Roster.

Although Creative Writing is one of the many disciplines supported, only proposals to sponsor long-term writing residencies are covered by this program. Short-term writing residencies (5 days) are coordinated through the New Jersey Writers Project, and administered by Playwrights Theatre of New Jersey (see AIE Handbook, page 48). For information, contact PTNJ at 973-514-1787 x14.*

Schools interested in Interdisciplinary or Folk Arts residencies must first consult with AIE staff at 609-633-1184.*

Q. How many students can be served in a residency?

A. Characteristically, a core group consists of students who meet with the AIE Teaching Artist every workshop day, with a residency day serving three or four core groups, for a total of approximately 75-100 students. Schools seeking to increase the size of the core group (for instance, an entire grade level that is more than four classes) should factor in increased Teaching Artist hours or days into their budget. Please contact AIE for assistance. Additional students can be served as a participating group - they may meet with the AIE Teaching Artist on occasion, attend visiting artist's events and assemblies and participate in field trips, culminating and other events related to the residency.

Q. What is the application deadline?

A. The AIE School Grant Application postmark deadline is Monday, February 1, 2016. Schools ranked highest by the application review panel will be contacted to schedule an interview to take place in April.

Q. When do I find out if my school received a grant?

A. Notification will be mailed in late-May to the designated school contact. Grant awards are made pending the availability of state funds and are confirmed in July. A letter finalizing the grant award will be mailed at that time.

This matching may be made through expenditures from the school budget (for instance, teacher release time), direct cash payments by the school (for instance, purchase of art making supplies) or other donated funds (for instance, PTA field trip fund) and must be spread over the various budget categories, as is appropriate for the proposed residency project.

BUDGET NARRATIVE

Please provide a brief explanation of your school’s cash match, and how you arrived at anticipated expenses for supplies/materials, equipment, field trips, teacher release/substitute fees, documentation, publicity, administrative costs and other (if applicable).

DEFINITIONS OF BUDGET ITEMS:

Artist in Residence Fee: The required AIE Teaching Artist fee is $300 per teaching day, which should include about 4 consecutive class periods per day. The minimum number of residency days is 20 per year ($300 x 20 days = $6,000 minimum for AIE Teaching Artist fees per year). The AIE Partner manages these funds directly from the AIE Grant.

Visiting Artist: Individual visiting artists should receive the same $300 per day as residency artists.

Supplies/Materials: Non-permanent items, including paper, paint, etc. to be used in the residency. When drafting the budget, please make sure the supply allocation supports the proposed residency.

Equipment: Permanent items, such as a printing press, camera, video recorder, etc. that are purchased by the school specifically for the residency.

Field Trips/ Assembly Fee: Costs for bus transportation, admission fees, etc. Performing groups/company fees may vary.

Teacher Release Time/Substitute Fees: Costs as needed for time outside of class time spent by teachers for the residency project; planning, attending workshops, field trips, completing documentation/evaluation, etc. (Calculated by $Hourly rate X # Hours = $Total Release Time/ Substitute Fees). In most instances, this amount is a significant portion of the schools’ financial match amount.

Documentation/Evaluation/Publicity: Costs of video duplication, printing, postage, etc.

Administrative Cost: Estimated costs for time dedicated to the residency by administrative staff such as principals or supervisors. (Calculated by $Hourly rate X # Hours = $Total Administrative cost)

Artist/Teacher Institute (aTi): The AIE Grant provides a 75% stipend for one teacher’s tuition to attend aTi. The school is responsible for the remaining 25%. The stipend may be used towards tuition, materials fees and housing up to the total stipend amount of $500. The stipend will be applied as a credit on the invoice provided by aTi. The school should be prepared to pay the remainder of the invoice to aTi directly.

Other: Expenses associated with the residency that do not fit into other categories.

AIE Grant: Total amount requested to help cover residency artist fees and aTi partial scholarship.

School Financial Match: Dollar amount the school commits to match the AIE grant. It should include expenditures to cover teacher release time, administrative time, supplies and materials appropriate to the project, and other expenses. The total of the School Financial Match must be at least 1/3 of the total grant request - the total of column B should be at least 1/3 of the total of column A.

In-Kind Sources: List the individuals, businesses organizations, etc. and the estimated value of the goods and services that will be donated for residency use. (An example of donated services: A parent who is a carpenter donates time with construction. An example of donated goods: A local art supply store contributes paint.)

GLOSSARY OF KEY TERMS & AIE RESIDENCY COMPONENTS

SCHOOL TEAM:

ADMINISTRATIVE COORDINATOR (AC)

A district-level person; the principal, vice principal or other administrator of the site (depending upon the administrative structure in place). The AC has the necessary authority and responsibility for scheduling and making all other arrangements necessary for the smooth operation of the AIE Program.

AIE PARTNER

Schools that receive an AIE grant work with one of the AIE Staff who will help facilitate the residency and provide technical assistance, support and guidance throughout the residency.

AIE TEACHING ARTIST

An AIE Teaching Artist is a professional artist on the NJSCA Artists Roster. AIE Teaching Artists are interviewed and selected by the school Steering Committee, with the assistance of their AIE Partner and lead the residency for a minimum of 20 days. The artist helps plan all the residency components and works with the steering committee to plan a field trip or invite a Visiting Artist.

CORE GROUP

The students who will work with the AIE Teaching Artist each workshop day throughout the project. Characteristically, a core group consists of a class of 25-30 students, with a residency day serving up to three core groups, for a total of approximately 75-100 students. Schools seeking to increase the size of the core group (for instance, an entire grade level) should factor in increased Teaching Artist days into their budget. Please contact AIE for assistance.

ON-SITE COORDINATOR (OSC)

The AIE Residency Artist's liaison to the site, students and community. The OSC is generally a teacher, department head or vice principal. He or she works cooperatively with the artist, and continues to stimulate and expand art activities at the site after completion of the residency. NOTE: If the OSC is not a teacher, then a Teacher Liaison should also be identified.

PARTICIPATING STUDENTS

Students who work with the AIE Teaching Artist on a less regular basis than the Core Group(s). For example, these students might rotate through a designated period during the AIE Teaching Artists' day or attend related activities such as an assembly or a field trip.

STEERING COMMITTEE

Composed of members of the faculty and administration, parents, and members of the community. It establishes goals, writes and submits the grant application and then implements the residency. The AIE Teaching Artist and the AIE Partner become part of the committee at the start of the residency.

TEACHER LIAISON (TL)

Represents teachers on the Steering Committee when the OSC is not from the site teaching staff. The TL ensures that the teaching staff from the sponsor site has direct input and involvement in the residency project from inception through completion.

VISITING ARTIST

Guest artist(s) invited by the AIE Teaching Artist to present a workshop or demonstration that expands the focus of the residency. The Visiting Artist is present with the AIE Teaching Artist to help make connections to the residency discipline.

RESIDENCY COMPONENTS:

CULMINATING EVENT OR ACTIVITY

An event for the community (such as a dance/music/theatre performance and/or exhibition of student art) that celebrates students' creative efforts during the residency, brings their work to a wider audience, and affirms the importance of the arts in learning.

DOCUMENTATION & EVALUATION

Final and completed Documentation and Evaluation of the project is due to the New Jersey State Council on the Arts no later than 30 days after completion of the residency. It should be on-going and submitted electronically throughout the residency, using the format provided by AIE Staff at the start of the residency. This will include documentation & samples of work produced, photographs, narrative responses, evaluation responses from students, teachers, administrators, community members and the AIE Teaching Artist as well as a budget component, statistic information and publicity samples.

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT PLAN

A plan developed and implemented during the residency in cooperation with the AIE Teaching Artist to help teachers and staff fulfill their Professional Development goals for the AIE Residency. The professional development activities might take the form of a workshop, a series of hands-on individual lessons in specific art-making techniques, co-teaching a designated lesson or other professional development/adult education models. PD should be planned in advance, documented and evaluated.

PUBLICITY

Schools are responsible for publicizing the residency to the community through print and electronic media. Attachment C of the grant contract provides the appropriate language to use in press releases when defining the program and its managing entities.

RESIDENCY DAY

Based on four 45-minute consecutive class periods with additional time for class preparation as needed.
