Section I: Fundamental Reform to Rebuild New Jersey's Economy

A Letter from Governor Chris Christie

To the Senate and Assembly of the New Jersey Legislature:

In accordance with the provisions of C.52:27B-20, I submit to you the Governor's Budget for Fiscal Year 2010-11.

Today, New Jersey faces perhaps the most challenging budget in our history. The effects of a structural budget deficit and the ongoing national recession have deteriorated our fiscal outlook and produced a $10.7 billion deficit – over one-third of our projected revenues. Our state continues to grapple with an unemployment rate of nearly 10%, the highest tax burden in the country, and the worst climate for business development in America.

In February, I signed Executive Order 14 and declared a state of fiscal emergency in order to address the $2.2 billion budget gap that remained for Fiscal Year 2009-10. Time was short and we had to act quickly to bring the budget back into balance. We closed the gap without raising taxes, raiding the already-shrinking surplus or increasing debt.

For the Fiscal Year 2011 Budget, we faced a problem of even greater magnitude, a result of the same circumstances and past failures that led to the current-year shortfall. Even as our economy faltered under the national recession and key sources of revenues weakened, budgeted expenditures were propped up by short term revenue. Overreliance on one-time revenue sources became a substitute for difficult choices. Budget reforms and sacrifices that would have put New Jersey's finances on stable ground sooner were delayed into the future.

Instead, spending continued at levels that were unsustainable and unsupportable in the long term. From fiscal 2001 through fiscal 2008 State spending increased nearly 59%, driven by policies that disregarded the need to build financial stability on a foundation of recurring revenues.

The budget solutions I present squarely address the problems we face. But there is no sugar-coating what needs to be done. We wish this task were easier, and we recognize that there are real people and families who will feel the impact of what we must do. Yet even amid the hard decisions in this proposal, you will find a commitment to protect and care for the most vulnerable among us. At a time when the magnitude of our shortfall requires reductions everywhere, this budget reflects this core value of our people.

For as great as these problems are and as difficult the road before us is, these obstacles are not insurmountable. Facing down these challenges today requires shared sacrifice from every part of government and those who use the services government provides.

Without ignoring the difficulty in these choices, my proposed budget presents comprehensive solutions and real reform that recognizes the economic realities we operate in while placing us on sound financial footing for the future.

It is only with an approach that recognizes the fullness of our problems – the cause and not merely the effect – will we accomplish what is needed.

Now is the time to plot a fiscal course for New Jersey that ensures we have once again become a home for growth and that our children and grandchildren have the opportunity to live and thrive in our great State.

Sincerely,

A Letter from Lt. Governor Kim Guadagno

To the Senate and Assembly of the New Jersey Legislature:

Governor Christie and I entered office during one of the most challenging times New Jersey has faced. The worst economic downturn since the Great Depression has inflicted substantial pain on families and businesses across our country. It has also placed a great strain on government and the services it is able to provide. New Jersey has not been immune from this harsh reality.

After closing a $2.2 billion gap to keep the State solvent through the end of the current fiscal year, our Administration is now addressing the $10.7 billion deficit for this coming fiscal year. The causes of these shortfalls are numerous: years of unchecked spending, a lack of stable revenue, billions in misguided borrowing, and an insufficient will to reform the budget process.

In the Governor's Fiscal Year 2011 Budget, the difficult choices are now finally being made. There is a new level of accountability and efficiency being demanded, and a sound foundation for reform and stability is being built. These actions are being conducted line-by-line, across every level of government.

But our efforts to bring substantial and meaningful reform to government extend beyond the budget's ledger. The economic and fiscal crises we are facing today have brought new attention to the struggling climate in which New Jersey businesses operate. Layers of red tape and duplicative, costly and often unnecessary rules and regulations plague our state. These layers of bureaucracy have stifled job creation and economic growth, and stunted New Jersey's ability to innovate.

Yet, even as we attempt to improve the state's climate for growth, the business community must share in the sacrifice everyone is making as we face reduced funding and the elimination of certain incentive programs. For example, this year's budget proposes savings by reducing funding for the high-tech business tax credit by $30 million; eliminating the film production tax credit; and continuing the elimination of funding for InvestNJ. Not all of these are decisions that we want to make. Rather, they are choices that will put our Budget in order and on the path to long-term reform.

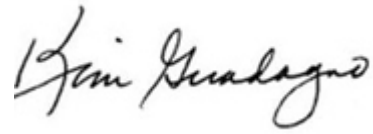

We need to look beyond this year's Budget, which is why Governor Christie has appointed me and seven other members to serve on a bipartisan Red Tape Review Group to recommend the revision or elimination of the rules and regulations hampering positive economic activity in New Jersey. We've already begun our work on the hundreds of regulations frozen in the Governor's first-day executive orders, and will make recommendations for deliverable action in April.

Our efforts to improve New Jersey's pro-growth climate will be coupled with a new initiative to market our state and its people – New Jersey Partnership for Action. New Jersey Partnership for Action will serve as a destination for businesses, provide outreach to attract new industry, and facilitate and incentivize job creation. New Jersey Partnership for Action will serve as a collaborative public-private partnership to bring quality paying jobs, economic growth, and new opportunities to New Jerseyans.

By establishing a welcoming environment for businesses and providing one-stop shopping to assist in relocation, retention, and incentive development, we will be able to strengthen our economy and make New Jersey a home for growth.

Our Administration is taking a comprehensive approach to fixing our economy, stabilizing the Budget, and putting our state on the path to recovery and long-term prosperity. Only through making the difficult choices now and forcing State government to live within its means, will we be able to once again welcome businesses and jobs home.

Sincerely,

Defining the Problem: The Scope of the Crisis Facing New Jersey

New Jersey is facing a $10.7 billion deficit for fiscal year 2011 that demands corrective action. This unprecedented budget gap is the culmination of years of shortsighted policies and poor budgeting practices that failed to recognize fundamental economic realities and take into account the impact of the national recession. This was evident when Governor Christie first took office and had to address an immediate $2.2 billion gap in fiscal 2010 before tackling the 2011 crisis.

When Governor Christie approached closing the fiscal 2010 gap, only $14 billion remained to be spent in the fiscal year as of January 31, 2010. Of that, $8 billion couldn't be touched because of labor contracts and other legal or statutory commitments. The $2.2 billion in savings had to come from just $6 billion in available balances. The Governor closed the gap without raising taxes, eroding the State's dwindling surplus, or impacting the quality of education our children will receive.

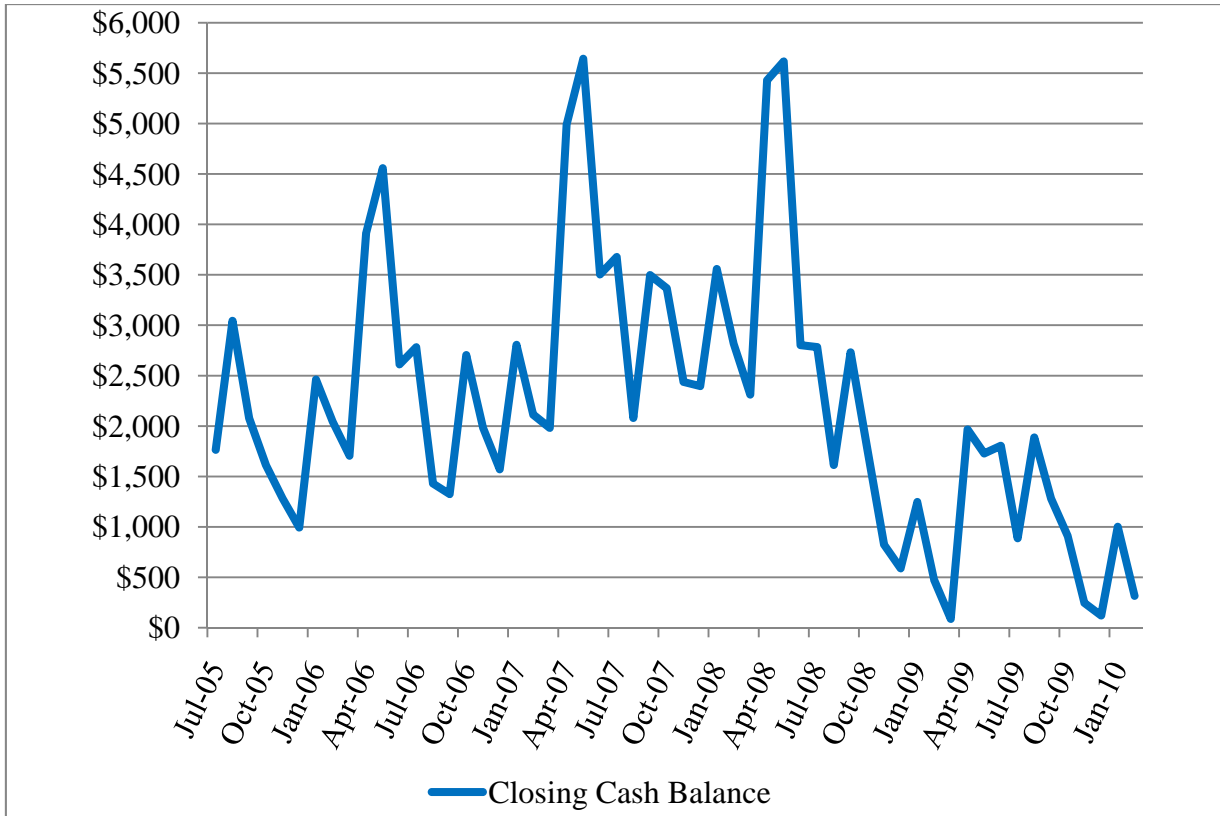

The fiscal 2010 Budget was just a microcosm of what's ailed New Jersey over the last eight fiscal years. During this time, State spending increased nearly 30% - largely financed by policies that disregarded the absence of recurring revenues.

These practices illustrate New Jersey's poor budgeting process and reveal an overstretched government scrambling to cover unaffordable costs:

- Driving up government employee salary costs by granting a double raise at a cost of $250 million and agreeing to pay a stiff penalty at taxpayer expense if the next Administration tried to reduce the workforce;
- Issuing more than $6 billion in debt – including securitizing $3.5 billion backed by New Jersey's tobacco settlement and $1.4 billion from Cigarette Tax Deficit Bonds – to balance Budgets in fiscal 2002, 2003 and 2005. More than $2 billion of that borrowing was later judged unconstitutional;
- Spending $1.3 billion in one-time federal dollars on current expenses without announcing any plan for making up the shortfall in the Fiscal 2011 Budget;
- Giving approximately $250 million under no-bid contracts to lawyers, financial organizations and others, solely to issue more debt;
- Exhausting $700 million in one-time tax amnesty revenues in one year;
- Securing a $2 billion line of credit to cover operating expenses, the result of years of declining cash balances (see the following chart).

The State's Cash Balances Have Declined Significantly

(In Millions)

The State now faces a staggering $10.7 billion budget gap that has been years in the making. It is the direct result of rising, unchecked spending at both the State and local levels. The State Budget was $21.8 billion in fiscal 2001. Spending surged 59% to a record $34.6 billion in fiscal 2008. Last year, the Budget was $31.3 billion counting federal stimulus money, until Governor Christie was forced to reduce spending as revenue failed to meet overly optimistic projections.

State Budget For Past Ten Years

(In Billions)

* The $38.4 billion figure represents how much the State would be obligated to spend in FY11 if Governor Christie had not made tough, but vitally needed budget cuts.

** Governor Christie's Proposed Budget for FY11

Over the last eight years, increases in spending have required multiple increases in the sales tax, the income tax, the cigarette tax, and the corporate business tax. At the same time, the State raised billions of dollars in new fees and tolls. In total, New Jerseyans have seen their taxes raised 115 times in the last eight years.

Rather than using the additional revenue to eliminate structural deficits and growing shortfalls in pensions, State government expanded spending, allowed benefits and pay for State and local employees to steadily grow, and compounded the spending and debt problem with billions in additional borrowing.

During the same period, local governments and schools raised property taxes, even while receiving tens of billions of dollars in State aid. New Jersey property taxes soared 70% from 1999 to 2009, and the average New Jersey household pays $7,281 a year in property taxes – the highest rate in the nation. Local spending rose 69% from $26.5 billion in 2001 to an estimated $44.7 billion this year.

New Jersey Local Government Spending

(In Billions)

Source: DCA Property Tax and Statewide Spending Summary

Local government spending has increased 69% since 2001, sending property taxes soaring and putting ever increasing pressure on the State to provide more school and municipal aid.

Despite long-standing debate about New Jersey's structural deficit, it has increased dramatically in the last decade. As a result, each of the last eight years started with a multi-billion dollar structural budget shortfall. Rather than address the root cause, non-recurring revenues were used to push off the problem into future years.

New Jersey's debt ballooned from $16 billion in 2001 to nearly $52 billion in 2009 and about $6 billion in bonds were sold to balance the Budget in fiscal 2003, 2004 and 2005. These bonds were backed by funds from a settlement with tobacco companies over health claims; new cigarette taxes; and even traffic fines.

To maintain spending, the State took $4.7 billion from the Unemployment Insurance funds from 1992 to 2007 to balance past Budgets.

10 Years of Growing Debt

(In Millions)

Comprehensive Annual Financial Report (CAFR) data includes the following bonded debt: general obligation bonds, revenue bonds payable, capital leases, installment obligations, certificates of participation, unamortized premium, and Tobacco Settlement Financing Corporation, Inc., less unamortized deferral on refunding, and unamortized interest on capital appreciation bonds. CAFR data includes the following non-bonded debt: accumulated sick and vacation payable, capital leases, loans payable, net pension obligation, other postemployment benefits (beginning in FY2008), and other non-bonded debt.

Yet deficits driven by uncontrolled spending continued to grow. As such, the previous Administration attempted to close the gap in fiscal 2010 with $1.1 billion in one-time tax increases, $700 million from a one-time tax amnesty program, and more than $2 billion in federal stimulus funds.

Unfortunately, this heavy reliance on one-time revenues greatly expanded the deficit faced by Governor Christie for fiscal 2011. While this budget gap has forced hard and difficult choices, it has also provided an opportunity for long-term reform and to fundamentally change the way the State maintains its finances.

Time and again, political expediency and short-term action to satisfy State government's appetite for spending were put before the state's fiscal health and long-term stability. Governor Christie has committed to cutting the Budget and spending only amounts that can be sustained by reasonable projections of recurring revenue. Without Governor Christie's changes to the fiscal 2011 Budget, the State would be spending a whopping $38.4 billion, an amount that would require a tax increase of nearly $11 billion. To raise that much money, State income tax collections would have to more than double or sales taxes would have to almost triple.

Closing the Gap

Making the Hard Choices Now to Achieve Long-Term Reform

For over a decade New Jersey has been in a fiscal crisis. Multi-billion dollar deficits have been repeatedly closed with one-time revenues, diversions, and deferrals. In such an atmosphere of never-ending fiscal uncertainty and stress, little time has been devoted to seriously reviewing programs for their effectiveness and efficiency. Instead, the focus has been almost exclusively on finding the right combination of short-term fixes and taxes to bring the Budget into balance for a few more months.

The budget process in New Jersey has paid insufficient attention to whether or not government services are genuinely serving the people – let alone how well they are working -- and the people of New Jersey are enduring the consequences in the form of higher taxes and lost prosperity.

This year, Governor Christie has made every effort to ensure that closing the deficit for fiscal year 2011 lays the foundation for reform that will make State and local government more accountable and New Jersey more affordable.

Fiscal Year 2011 Budget Solutions Moving Toward Streamlined, Effective State Government

Governor Christie is proposing a Fiscal Year 2011 Budget of $28.3 billion, which is $1.6 billion or 5.3% less than the adjusted fiscal 2010 appropriation of State funds. It is also $2.9 billion or 8.9% less than the adjusted fiscal 2010 appropriation when federal stimulus aid is included.

The Governor's Budget proposes a series of spending reductions, reforms and revenue enhancements to close a budget gap now estimated at $10.7 billion. This is the largest absolute and percentage-based gap in New Jersey's history.

The Governor's budget solutions include critical savings, while also maintaining funding for programs designed to protect the most vulnerable. It also provides long-term property tax reform.

Key Highlights in Governor Christie's Fiscal 2011 Budget Solutions

Finding Critical Savings Across Government

Governor Christie's Budget closes the projected $10.7 billion gap with a total of $10.1 billion in reduced expenditures. These reductions are the result of an across-the-board review of the effectiveness and efficiency of departments and agencies.

- Deferring Pension Payments While Pursuing Aggressive Reforms. $3.1 billion is saved by deferring pension payments. Realizing these critical savings now is possible because pending pension reforms will reduce the system's unfunded liability. Governor Christie supports bipartisan legislation currently before the Legislature that he considers a good first step toward restoring the State pension system to health. More reforms will be needed, including measures that will match worker benefits to the taxpayers' ability to pay.

- Fundamental Reform for Sustainable Property Relief. This year's Budget will reform the fiscal 2010 $1.118 billion Homestead Rebate Program. This reform will allow the rebate to continue with current eligibility in the form of a property tax credit and put an end to the long-standing practice of borrowing money and paying interest to send out checks. New Jerseyans will receive the first quarterly installment of this credit in May 2011.
- Funding Education Without Federal Stimulus Dollars. Faced with the loss of $1.2 billion in federal stimulus funding (American Recovery and Reinvestment Act funds) that was used to balance the Fiscal 2010 Budget, this year's spending plan dedicates almost $70 million more of State funds to education aid than last year. Still, the loss of most federal stimulus funds will mean that total aid to New Jersey's school districts will fall by $820 million. Great care was taken to ensure that no school district will lose more in formula aid than 4.99% of its original Fiscal 2010 Budget.
- Working With Municipalities to Reduce Costs While Finding Cost Savings. This year's Budget finds savings from a $466 million reduction in municipal aid. A "tool kit" of reform measures has been created to help communities lower their costs and avoid property tax increases, even with a reduction in State aid.

Protecting Our Most Vulnerable Even in Difficult Economic Times

The most vulnerable citizens of New Jersey did not cause our fiscal crisis. Unfortunately, they will be affected by cuts in spending. Every effort was made to make sure that the State still provides the most critically needed services, even as we face an unprecedented fiscal crisis. The Governor's Budget:

- Preserves the health care safety net for New Jersey residents by increasing funding for hospitals;
- Protects access to medications for seniors by maintaining program eligibility for prescription drugs;
- Continues to identify and enroll all eligible children in both Medicaid and NJ FamilyCare;
- Expands the Food Stamp program to 185% of the federal poverty level;
- Keeps New Jersey's State parks open so that the public can enjoy them;
- Maintains funding for welfare grants to families; and
- Doesn't call for Medicaid co-pays – the first Budget by any governor not to do so in 8 years.

Modest Growth in Resources

The Governor's Budget includes $600 million in resource solutions including anticipated modest growth in multiple categories of state resources.

A Tool Kit to Meet Today's Fiscal Challenges

To help municipalities, school districts, and institutions of higher education manage and meet the challenges they face, the Governor's Proposed Budget builds a long overdue tool kit of mandate relief and regulatory flexibility for beleaguered towns and schools that includes:

- A constitutional cap on property tax increases
- A constitutional cap on increases in spending for direct State government services
- Collective bargaining reform
- Pension and benefits reform
- Civil Service reform
- Management reform

A State of Fiscal Emergency

New Jersey in Economic Crisis

It wasn't that long ago that New Jersey was considered the economic engine of the entire northeastern United States. The innovation and strength of the people of New Jersey's bustling cities and towns was vital to America's rise to pre-eminence in world leadership in the 20th Century. Camden, with its shipyards and its radio manufacturing plants, was known as the Workshop of the World. Trenton was home to world-beating auto industry factories, steel plants and porcelain makers, and it could honestly boast that Trenton Makes, the World Takes. The proud men and women of New Jersey have an unmatched history of harnessing new technologies, energy and innovation. Consider: the first ocean-going steamboat sailed from Hoboken. John Stevens invented one of the first steam locomotives. And Thomas Edison, the wizard of Menlo Park (now Edison), invented the technology for electric light and sound recording.

Today, New Jersey's reputation as a world leader in innovation and industrial prowess is at risk. Too many New Jerseyans are struggling to find good jobs with decent pay. Many New Jerseyans are struggling to find a quality paying job, while others are holding down two or three jobs without benefits just to make ends meet. New Jersey no longer has a monopoly on the best and brightest. Instead, many of our best minds now are generating jobs in other states. According to the New Jersey Association of Colleges and Universities, New Jersey ranks first in the nation in the net loss of college bound students, at close to 30,000 annually.

It is no secret that the highest tax burden in the country has forced jobs and people away. Between December 2008 and December 2009, New Jersey lost more than 114,000 jobs, including more than 28,000 in manufacturing. Heart-breaking job losses continued in January 2010, when New Jersey saw 9,100 positions disappear.

A recent study by Boston College found that $70 billion in wealth left New Jersey from 2004 to 2008. Instead of effectively promoting our strengths, government has strangled opportunity and stifled economic growth.

But through our latest struggles, New Jerseyans have not lost the spirit and drive and resiliency that made our state great.

Throughout history, New Jersey has been the cradle of innovation, from light bulbs to communications and pharmaceuticals. Now it must be the world leader in government reform as well. Now, like then, this innovation is out of necessity, not out of luxury.

This year's Budget demonstrates Governor Christie's commitment to reform and fiscal responsibility. It's designed to foster an environment in New Jersey that allows our entrepreneurs and business owners to again create jobs instead of driving them offshore or to other states. It's clear that this is an enormous challenge, but it is a challenge we must and will meet.

New Jersey Compared to the United States and to Other States

In 2009, the United States faced the worst economic downturn since the Great Depression. The financial meltdown of 2008 bankrupted businesses, forced people out of their homes, and destroyed jobs.

Today, the country is still struggling to dig itself out of this hole. From California to Iowa to North Carolina, states are struggling to find the formula for recovery.

New Jersey is having a particularly hard time bouncing back, in part because it was in deep economic trouble long before the economic crisis hit.

- New Jersey Lost More Jobs When Compared to Other States

Sources: US Bureau of Labor Statistics/seasonally adjusted; NJ Dept. of Labor.

The percentage of unemployed New Jerseyans has more than doubled since the recession began in November 2007, when the state's unemployment rate was 4.4%. Private-sector job growth lagged behind our neighbors. Between December 2006 and December 2009, New Jersey lost more than 224,000 private sector jobs, a 6.5% decline. In that same time period, Pennsylvania and New York fared much better, though they still endured declines of 4.7% and 3.2% respectively.

In January 2010, New Jersey's unemployment rate was 9.9% after reaching 10.1% in December 2009 and topping the national average for the first time since 2006. At this writing, New Jersey's unemployment rate still remains above the national rate of 9.7%.

New Jersey's unemployment rate averaged 9.2% in 2009. That far surpassed the rates in the neighboring states of New York and Pennsylvania, where unemployment averaged 8.4% and 8.1%, respectively.

- New Jersey Has Largest Budget Gap Per Taxpayer in the Country

Source: Center on Budget and Policy Priorities (2-25-10)

New Jersey may not be alone in facing a staggering budget gap, but the State has the largest budget gap per taxpayer in the country – by far. New Jersey’s fiscal 2011 shortfall, at $10.7 billion, represents 36% of the previous fiscal year’s Adjusted Budget.

Only two other states, Illinois and California, have larger budget shortfalls, in pure dollars. Illinois’s fiscal 2011 budget gap is estimated to be $12.8 billion, while California’s is estimated to be $12.3 billion.

Both New Jersey’s and Illinois’ fiscal 2011 shortfalls represent more than a third (34%) of the entire previous fiscal year budget for each state. The national average is just 17 percent.

California’s shortfall represents only 12.5% of its previous budget.

Regionally, both New York and Pennsylvania have fiscal 2011 budget gaps representing a percentage of the previous fiscal year budget below the national average, hovering near 15%. Delaware’s is about 12% for fiscal 2011.

- New Jersey's Debt Burden Ranked in Top Five Compared to Other States

Sources: State of NJ Debt Report, Submitted to Commission on Capital Budgeting and Planning, November 2009 including citations from Moody's Investor Service, July 2009.

New Jersey's debt is staggering and is one of the consequences of spending beyond recurring revenues. In all categories measuring states' debt burdens – whether the comparison is per capita or in total – New Jersey is in the top five.

The first $2.5 billion of New Jersey's Budget – before any programs, departments or services are funded – is spent on debt service. This leaves not only current taxpayers with fewer services, but also leaves future generations hamstrung with debt not of their making. Ultimately, this debt belies the true amount of State spending on services and makes budgeting, even in the best of times, difficult.

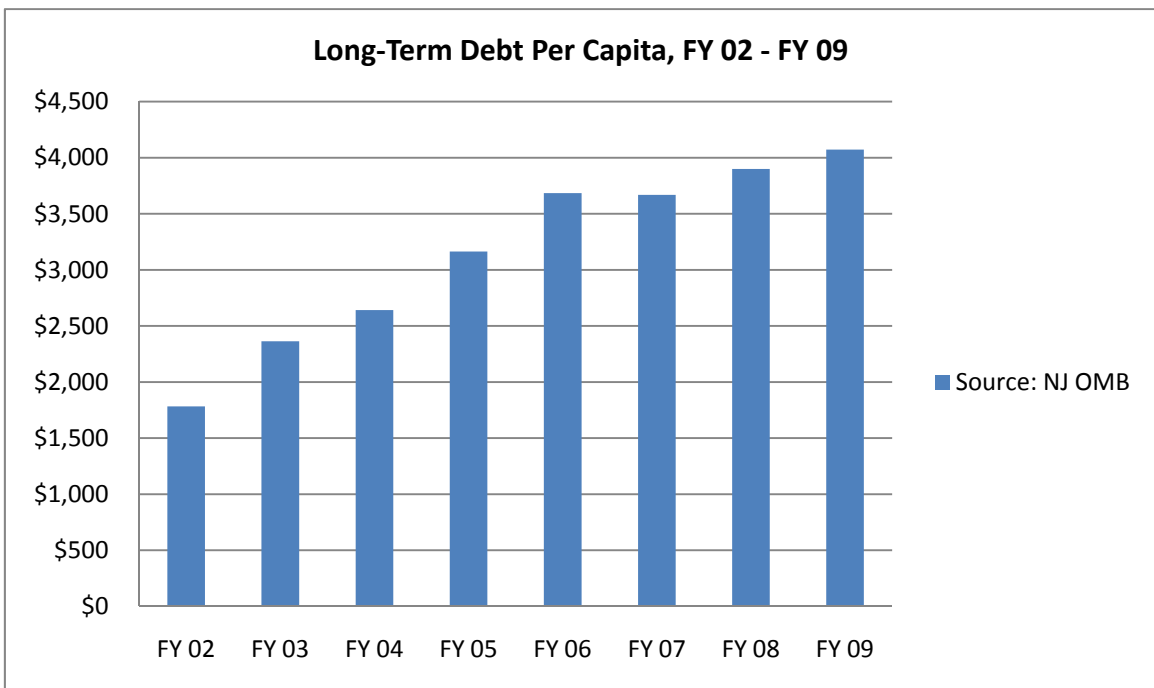

The percentage of the State's Budget obligated toward debt service has risen dramatically - more than 42% in the last five fiscal years. In Fiscal Year 2010, debt service accounted for nearly 8.5% of all funds appropriated.

New Jersey's fiscal 2010 debt service spending, in actual dollars, was approximately $2.5 billion, up from about $1.7 billion in fiscal 2005.

Take a closer look at how this impacts taxpayers. If the State's debt burden from 2009 was parceled out individually – each New Jersey resident would have owed nearly $4,100. This is a nearly 130% increase from 2002, when the per capita debt was $1,782.

- New Jersey's Unfunded Pension Liability Only Topped by California and Illinois

Source: Pew Center on the States (July 31, 2009)

New Jersey's pension system is in a troubling position. This problem has been steadily escalating as failures to enact reform and unfunded benefits have added up.

By way of illustration - New Jersey's pension liabilities grew 104% from 1999 to 2008. During this same time, assets in those same pension systems grew by just 35%.

As a direct result, over the last several years New Jersey's pension systems' funding ratio has fallen to 66%*, well below what is the generally accepted ratio for a system to be considered to be performing well.

New Jersey's unfunded pension liability is topped only by California and Illinois nationally, at $59.5 billion and $54.4 billion, respectively.**

For too long, the State's spending has far outpaced growth in recurring revenues, hampering New Jersey's ability to properly fund its pension systems, and jeopardizing budgets for other essential priorities.

*Most recent New Jersey data: New Jersey: $45.8 billion Unfunded Actuarial Accrued Liability / 66% funded.

**Pew report numbers, from fiscal 2008, used only for purposes of comparison.

Revenue Forecast

New Jersey's total revenues for fiscal 2011 are expected to be $28.3 billion, or $490 million less than the original fiscal 2010 Budget. Estimated revenues are $1.2 billion lower than in fiscal 2009, and $4.9 billion lower than in fiscal 2008. Economic indicators suggest a slow national recovery is underway, but the momentum of the recovery slowed in the first quarter and may not be sustained beyond summer 2010. Sales and corporate business tax collections are expected to rise, more than offsetting falling income tax collections when compared to the revised fiscal 2010 estimate. The income tax base is projected to increase by approximately 4.6% in tax year 2010 and continue to grow at a moderate pace of 2.9% rate in tax year 2011, reflecting the steady but moderate paced recovery outlook for personal income anticipated by a number of independent economic forecasting services.

Sales Tax

The forecast of $7.855 billion in sales tax revenue for fiscal 2011 is a decrease of $110 million from the original fiscal 2010 Budget. Economic indicators suggest sales tax collections should slowly rise as the recovery continues to proceed, though at a painfully slow pace. Sales tax collections fell by almost $900 million from 2009 to 2010 from a peak of $8.395 billion in fiscal 2008. Forecasts have proven difficult since the nation went into recession in December 2007. Forecasters predicted $7.965 billion in sales tax collections at the start of fiscal 2010. With less than four months remaining in the fiscal year, collections are on track to fall $442 million below that estimate.

Corporation Business Tax

The Corporation Business Tax (CBT) estimate of collections for fiscal 2011 is $2.145 billion, a decrease of $79 million from the fiscal 2010 Budget. New Jersey companies are expected to pay more taxes as the recovery gradually allows them to generate more revenues. CBT collections have fallen 32% from $2.997 billion in 2007 to a revised estimate of $2.044 billion in fiscal 2010, despite a tax amnesty program that brought in $392.6 million in 2009 and continuation of a 4% surcharge on businesses in fiscal 2009 and 2010. As an economic stimulus measure, Governor Christie has ended the surcharge for fiscal 2011.

The forecast assumes growth in payments for calendar 2010 as pre-tax corporate profitability is projected to improve from the depressed recessionary period and refunds are expected to fall from the unusually high levels paid out in fiscal 2009 and 2010. The fiscal 2011 estimate reflects the expiration of the 4% surcharge, change in the throw out rule governing corporate profits, and elimination of the regular place of business rules.

Gross Income Tax

Forecasts predict a $448 million drop in gross income tax collections in fiscal 2011. Estimates for total collections are $9.945 billion. The 4.3% drop reflects weak income growth trends and volatility in the financial markets, as well as changes in the tax code. New Jersey instituted a temporary increase in the top tax rate to 10.75% in fiscal 2010, eliminated the property tax deduction for non-seniors earning more than $250,000 a year, and added a tax on lottery winnings greater than $10,000. To help revive the state's faltering economy, Governor Christie has decided not to re-institute the temporary tax increase, and the top rate will be 8.97% in fiscal 2011. The forecast of income tax collections includes a change in the Earned Income Tax Credit (EITC) program whereby the benefit will be 20% of the federal benefit. This represents a decrease from the 2009 tax year when the EITC program was at 25% of the federal benefit. New Jersey total income that is subject to the income tax decreased by 3% and 7.2% in tax years 2008 and 2009, respectively, following an increase of 10.2% in tax year 2007. Households reporting over $100,000 in total income account for around 85% of the State's income tax revenue. Income for these households fell by approximately 10.2% in tax year 2009. Forecasts are that income in these households will grow by 9.6% in 2010, but the pace will slow to 4.9% in tax year 2011. These trends are significantly below the double-digit average annual growth rate of 13% experienced in the 2004-2007 expansionary period, following the last economic recession.

Cigarette Tax

Cigarette tax collections are expected to fall by 0.05%, or $400,000 from the revised fiscal 2010 estimate, as consumption remains weak in the state because of tax increases and consumers' health concerns. New Jersey taxes on cigarettes were raised by 12.5 cents, or 4.9%, to $2.70 a pack on July 1, 2009. Legislators have increased cigarette taxes five times since 2002, when the tax was 80 cents a pack. From fiscal 2011 gross collections, $396.5 million is dedicated to the Health Care Subsidy Fund to assist hospitals with charity care. Also, $139.1 million is dedicated to paying bondholders of Cigarette Tax Revenue Bonds, Series 2004. The remaining $200 million in funds is available to balance the Budget.

Casino Revenue

For fiscal 2011, forecasts predict a $37 million, or 12%, decline in casino tax collections from the revised fiscal 2010 estimate. The weak economy and expanding competition from other forms of gambling originating both offshore and from slot machine parlors built in other states are hurting Atlantic City casinos. Total casino tax collections are projected to be $274.6 million, down from late year estimates of $311.6 million in fiscal 2010.

Fiscal Year 2011 Solutions: Foundation for Long Term Reform

Closing the Gap and Setting the Stage for Reform

When the Christie Administration put together the Fiscal Year 2011 Budget, there was no other choice but to dramatically reduce spending. A staggering gap existed between the revenue that could realistically be collected and the spending that had been approved. The simple reality is that available revenue was nearly $11 billion less than the spending expected under current law.

Closing this immense budget gap would clearly require a major restructuring and downsizing of the operations of government. It would not be enough to fall back on shifting funds from existing accounts or tapping into unspent surplus dollars.

Closing the gap required the kind of hard decisions that had been avoided or delayed in the past. Members of the Christie Administration reviewed every program, in every department and agency of State government. Not one line of spending was exempt from scrutiny. This across-the-board review was designed to ensure that even programs deemed essential were intensely studied to see if they could be operated more efficiently.

A series of questions had to be answered about each budget item under review:

- Is the program or operation required because of a constitutional mandate?
- Is a certain level of funding required to ensure the receipt of federal matching funds or other federal funding? Is the spending necessary to pay debt service obligations?
- Is the spending tied to a contractual obligation?
- Does a program make up a key part of the "safety net" that protects New Jersey's most vulnerable citizens?
- How would cutting the program affect local property taxes?
- Realistically, can the State afford and sustain this program?

Once the program or funding was reviewed, a second filter was applied to ensure that decisions made were in the state's best interest.

- Is the program or service best administered by the State, or some other agency or level of government?
- Should the program continue as currently structured?
- Can efficiencies be obtained?
- Is similar funding available to all programs within a certain category?

Using this approach, the Fiscal 2011 Proposed Budget was built from the bottom up, allowing for a reform of State government operations, while at the same time preserving the core functions and services taxpayers expect.

An Opportunity for Reform

The current economic and fiscal crisis facing New Jersey makes it clear that we can no longer ignore the need for fundamental change in State and local governments. Government in New Jersey delivers inconsistent services at unaffordable and unsustainable cost.

Governor Christie's Fiscal Year 2011 Budget leverages this challenge as an opportunity for long-term reform by finding areas to reduce cost, eliminate waste, promote economic growth, and protect priority services.

Right-Sizing the State Workforce

The Governor's Fiscal 2011 Budget would gradually reduce the State workforce through the elimination of programs or functions that are not core to the mission of New Jersey's State government.

Top to Bottom Review of Privatization Opportunities

Opportunities abound for contracting with qualified and competent private entities to assume functions or provide services currently operated by State government. Governor Christie has already signed Executive Order 17, which implemented a comprehensive review of State government in order to find areas ripe for privatization. The Administration will provide recommendations where efficiency and performance can be improved by pursuing privatization opportunities.

Accordingly, a list of government services and functions was developed using the guiding principle that the privatization of a government service or function should be considered whenever and wherever the private sector already provides that service or function.

For example, this approach can be applied to the State workforce to lower costs and improve efficiency. The State can begin the transformation of New Jersey Network (NJN) from a State-run media organization into an independent not-for-profit, just as the State can transition out of the business of running parking operations. Other examples of areas that will be reviewed include: the operation of State park facilities, vocational education services, testing and inspections within the Motor Vehicle Commission, and food service and facilities maintenance across State government.

Supporting New Jersey's Hospitals and Protecting the Most Vulnerable

Charity Care subsidies are critical to the provision of hospital care to New Jersey's neediest citizens. The Governor's Fiscal 2011 Budget increases funding for Charity Care and moves the Charity Care formula closer to an objective, utilization-based standard.

Validating the Function and Necessity of Authorities, Boards, and Commissions

Pursuant to Executive Order 15, the Administration will complete a review of each of the hundreds of existing authorities, boards, and commissions by mid-May 2010. Recommendations to continue or eliminate these entities will clarify decision-making processes, define the scope of responsibilities of any remaining entity, and drive consistent financial policies. The Fiscal 2011 Budget proposal reduces compensation for a number of boards and commissions.

Injecting Competition and a Level Playing Field Into the Grantmaking Process

Previous Budgets have contained a number of non-competitive "carve out" appropriations for specific groups or social service providers. Other providers of the same or similar services either have had no access to funding or have had to compete for their share of a smaller pool of available resources. The Governor's Fiscal 2011 Budget eliminates many special carve outs in favor of an open and competitive grantmaking process. A level playing field will give the most effective service providers an opportunity to compete for a greater share of available resources. In many cases, the overall amount of funds available for distribution will remain at fiscal 2010 levels. Areas where a level playing field will make a difference:

- Department of Health: Maternal, Child and Chronic Diseases
- Department of Labor: Vocational Rehabilitation
- Council on the Arts: Cultural Grants
- Historical Commission Grants

Smarter, Cheaper, and More Effective Levels of Government Operation

New Jersey can't afford to waste money on antiquated and inefficient ways of managing operations and delivering services. The Governor's Fiscal 2011 Budget includes a range of specific initiatives, some requiring legislation, to realize smarter, cheaper, and more effective government.

The Governor's Budget highlights specific examples where the State can reduce cost, even at the simplest levels:

- Using electronic benefits transfer (EBT) cards for child care payments instead of paper checks;
- Collecting the existing tax on diesel fuel at the distributor level, eliminating costly and cumbersome collection at the retail level;
- Increasing the use of direct deposit for State employee salaries and vendor payments;
- Rationalizing statutory rules with respect to unclaimed property;
- Enhancing enforcement to fight Medicaid fraud;
- Eliminating unnecessary motorcycle inspections;
- Restricting the use of State automobiles for commuting and reducing the State's fleet of cars;
- Reducing overtime through smarter staffing and scheduling;
- Consolidating office space;
- Closing Motor Vehicle Commission agencies on low-traffic Mondays and increasing Saturday customer service hours;
- Closing four underutilized Motor Vehicle Commission agencies;
- Reducing the number of State prisoners in county jails; and
- Insourcing to replace high-cost contracted personnel.

Improving Transparency and Encouraging Sound Financial Management

As of June 30, 2009, New Jersey's tax-supported debt was $33.8 billion. New Jersey ranked 3rd in total net tax-supported debt and 4th in net tax-supported debt per capita and net tax-supported debt as a percentage of 2007 personal income. As part of the Administration's commitment to transparency and sound financial management, and contemporaneous with the adoption of the fiscal 2011 Budget, the Governor will issue an Executive Order requiring the Treasurer to publish State policies with respect to State tax-supported debt.

A New Model for the Revitalization of Trenton's Cultural District

The Governor's Fiscal 2011 Budget replicates Rutgers' central role in the revitalization of downtown New Brunswick by proposing to bring Rutgers to the Capital City through a merger with Thomas Edison State College. Thomas Edison's instructional program is not primarily provided through a traditional classroom model; Rutgers offers both on-line and classroom-based programs. The combination will allow new classroom-based services for students in Trenton, while leveraging the two institutions' distance learning programming.

The Budget also proposes that Rutgers, which has experience operating its own library and museum, take over the operations of the State Library (which is currently overseen by Thomas Edison College) and the State Museum. A lack of consistent State and private support has prevented the State Library and State Museum from meeting their full potential as cultural and economic assets for Trenton and New Jersey.

Provide Departments and Agencies Hiring Flexibility

In recent years, enhanced retirement packages and an arbitrary hiring freeze produced a smaller yet ultimately less effective State workforce. Hiring restrictions and archaic civil service requirements have prevented logical workforce planning, disrupting day-to-day operations and imposing additional costs as agencies resorted to outsourcing to fulfill critical program requirements. Accordingly, the Governor's Fiscal 2011 Budget provides certain departments and agencies with hiring flexibility to reduce overall costs or enhance revenues. Some examples:

- Division of Property Management: State employees will serve as electricians and plumbers instead of outside contractors.
- Division of Investments: The Attorney General's office will hire two attorneys to reduce the need for outside legal services.
- Law and Public Safety Emergency Operations Center (EOC) and Hamilton Technology Complex: State employees, instead of more expensive contractors, will perform 24/7 trade service operations for emergency purposes.
- New Views Treatment Program: Existing State staff will provide counseling services at Greystone Park Psychiatric Hospital.
- OIT Data Management Services: Skilled State employees will provide support instead of relying on more expensive outside contractors.

Improving Efficiencies Through the Consolidation of Oversight Agencies

To eliminate overlap and streamline the State's various oversight functions, the Governor's fiscal 2011 Budget eliminates the Department of the Public Advocate and recommends consolidating the functions of the Inspector General, the State Commission of Investigation, and the Medicaid Inspector General into the Office of the State Comptroller.

Targeting Waste and Inefficiencies

This year, of all years, New Jersey can't afford dysfunctional or inefficient government. From the outset of the budget review process, poor practices and programs were targeted for reform or elimination. Following are changes that were made to programs and practices that were not functioning in the best interests of the people of New Jersey:

Reforming the Grants Process and Provider Contracts

A competitive application process will be required for every grant application. Whenever possible, providers of services will be given a level playing field when competing to win State grants, as will other government and non-government entities competing for resources.

In addition, all departments were asked to evaluate their third-party provider contracts to generate efficiencies. The Division of Mental Health Services in the Department of Human Services identified contracts that exceed the optimal levels for the services provided and will take steps to reduce expenses. The Department of Children and Families is identifying contracts that are too expensive or underperforming to justify renewal.

Reducing Pay and Benefits for Members of Boards and Commissions

There are many State boards and commissions whose members receive compensation. Some members receive just enough pay to qualify to receive a pension. This expensive perk will be eliminated for many commission and board members who attend a meeting just once a month, yet get the same pension eligibility as full-time workers who work 40 hours a week plus overtime. The fiscal 2011 Budget proposal reduces compensation for a number of boards and commissions, such as the Local Finance Board and the Real Estate Commission.

Give College Administrators Control Over Their Budgets

Over the years, lawmakers have added restrictions to Budgets that tie the hands of university and college administrators as they try to manage their institutions. Governor Christie is proposing a series of reforms that will empower New Jersey's higher education community and ultimately drive down tuition costs. The Governor is recommending that State colleges and universities be able to opt out of Civil Service, conduct collective bargaining on their own behalf, and manage their own workers' compensation programs and claims for workplace illness and injury.

Eliminating Unfair Allocation of Aid

Special Municipal Aid and Extraordinary Aid were created as short-term assistance to municipalities that needed State assistance to get their finances in order. The application process was supposed to be rigorous, and the requirements for aid were designed to force municipalities to manage their budgets effectively and efficiently. Instead, cities receive aid year after year with little or no effective oversight, and a few cities have gotten hundreds of millions of dollars in aid without being forced to meet the requirements of a rigorous application process. Aid from these programs and the Capital City Aid program will be consolidated into a program called Transitional Aid to Localities, which will require municipalities to submit detailed applications to justify their needs for additional aid.

In addition, Union and Essex Counties receive what amounts to State aid through the Department of Corrections' budget. These payments will be reduced.

The County Prosecutor Funding Initiative Pilot Program is being eliminated because it applies to just four counties. Initially, the lawmakers were told the initiative was a pilot program that would lead to aid being granted to all 21 counties in the state. Instead, only Mercer, Camden, Essex and Hudson counties have been granted the aid.

The Regional Efficiency Aid Program (REAP) was intended to provide State incentives to municipalities to reward them for their efforts to share services. Since 2003, REAP payments have been limited to 14 municipalities that entered into shared services agreements. This aid was never billed as a permanent payment to these 14 municipalities but that's what it has become.

Address Fraud in the Medicaid Program

The Medicaid Inspector General will be given the power and resources to find and eliminate fraud. It is anticipated that $40 million of Medicaid fraud will be identified and eliminated during fiscal 2011.

Tap the Savings of Electronic Benefits for Child Care

During fiscal 2011, Child Care payments will move from vouchers (paper checks) to Electronic Benefits Transfer (EBT) payments similar to those used to deliver Food Stamps and Temporary Assistance for Needy Families. This transition will cut down on fraudulent payments, eliminate delays due to lost or misdirected mail, reduce data entry errors, speed up Child Care payments to providers, and decrease the administrative and operational costs associated with the contracted Child Care Resource and Referral agencies.

Reduce the Number of State Vehicles

The number of vehicles in the Central Motor Pool will be reduced by an estimated 325 cars, vans, and trucks. Departments will be required to pay far closer attention to how vehicles are being used so that the number of State cars can be further reduced.

Eliminating Nursing Services at State Buildings

The State has nurses on duty to treat State workers at some of its offices, but not others. The State will now handle medical emergencies without a full time nurse on site at some locations, as it does in most State offices.

Providing Less Expensive Health Care to Incarcerated Juveniles

The Juvenile Justice Commission will turn the operation of its medical services over to the University of Medicine and Dentistry (UMDNJ). UMDNJ already is under contract with the Department of Corrections to provide medical care for adult inmates. This contract to date appears to have provided millions of dollars of savings to the State without compromising care.

No Tuition Reimbursement for Non-Work Related Classes

Tuition reimbursement will not be provided to State employees taking classes unrelated to their employment. Incentives for continuing education also will be eliminated.

Improve Efficiency in Corrections

The Department of Corrections will improve its operating efficiency by increasing bed capacity in its institutions. This will be accomplished through double bunking, eliminating specialized units, and relocating the civilly committed inmate population from Kearny.

Making Tough Choices/Living Within The State's Means

The Fiscal Year 2011 Budget is the result of hard and difficult choices. The reality is that, given the current economic and fiscal climate, no department or program can go untouched. The unfortunate consequence is that many services Governor Christie considers priorities will have to share in the sacrifice. However, by putting New Jersey's fiscal house back in order now, it will be possible to restore funding for the most effective and desirable programs in the future.

Department Of Agriculture

School Nutrition

For fiscal 2011, the appropriation for the school lunch program will be reduced to the minimum level needed to bring in federal funding. The federal government will continue to provide $42 million for school lunches for low income students who need them and $160 million in total for all students. The $3 million State enhancement to the federally funded school breakfast program also will be eliminated in fiscal 2011.

Banking And Insurance

Industry Efficiency

Additional hiring of staff is required to maintain accreditation with the banking and insurance industries. Since these regulated industries reimburse for all Department of Banking and Insurance expenditures, costs to the industry will rise by $2.179 million.

Real Estate Commission

The Commission consists of seven part-time board members who receive the same health and pension benefits as full-time State employees. The Board's pay will be reduced to a level such that members will no longer be eligible for these benefits. The president is now paid $15,000 a year, and each board member is paid $10,500 a year.

The Department Of Children And Families

Modified Settlement Agreement

Spending was cut in such a way that the Department should still have sufficient resources to meet the terms of a court-ordered settlement entered into in 2006.

Deinstitutionalization

The Department will close one of three residential treatment centers. Courts have ordered that children be placed in permanent homes whenever possible rather than institutions. Closing the Woodbridge Residential Treatment Center on Jan. 1, 2011, will both save money and put the children into treatment plans that conform with the spirit of court orders. The facility has the capacity for 30 children and employs 90 staff.

Community Affairs

State Aid to Municipalities and Counties

Municipal aid provided under the Consolidated Municipal Property Tax Relief Aid and the Energy Tax Receipts Property Tax Relief Fund programs will be reduced by about $271.4 million to a total of slightly less than $1.3 billion, and the distribution of aid for these programs will be through one aid program.

A competitive process will be used to decide which communities need additional assistance under a new Transitional Aid program. With the creation of this new program, Special Municipal Aid, Extraordinary Aid, and Capital City Aid will cease to exist in their current form, as will Consolidation Fund Aid and the Regional Efficiency Aid Program. Open Space Payments in Lieu of Taxes Aid will be reduced by $3.53 million, reflecting the first year of a phase-out of the program. About $160 million will be available for temporarily distressed municipalities under the Transitional Aid to Localities program, a 10% reduction from the fiscal 2010 appropriation for the programs it replaces.

Special funding for counties also will be eliminated or reduced, including County Prosecutor Aid, County Jails Substance Abuse Aid, and County Solid Waste Debt Service Aid. The Department of Human Services also anticipates capping counties' billable rates for expenditures at county psychiatric hospitals at 110% of the State rate. This change will reduce State Aid expenditures by $3.76 million.

Division of Local Government Services

The Division of Local Government Services will continue to support municipal and county governments by providing technical assistance and being responsible for the distribution of State aid. It will continue to oversee local government finances, management, procurement, and ethics, including the property tax levy. For fiscal 2011, the Division will be directed to work with local units of government to establish "best practices" and to implement ideas that will provide mandate relief to lower the local tax burden.

Local Finance Board

Beginning in fiscal 2011, Board members will serve without compensation. By eliminating salaries, pension service credit will cease to accrue, saving future pension payments. Members now collect a $12,000 salary each and have the option of receiving health care benefits at State expense.

Pinelands and Highlands

Direct aid of $7.6 million paid to certain communities in the Pinelands and Highlands regions will no longer be provided. The Budget does include $4.4 million for planning grants that the Highlands Council awards to municipalities and counties.

Urban Enterprise Zone Revenue Sharing

The Urban Enterprise Zone (UEZ) program consists of 32 zones in 37 municipalities throughout the state. Businesses participating in the UEZ program can charge half the standard sales tax rate, with all or a portion of collections dedicated for use within the zones for economic development projects. During fiscal 2011, all revenue sharing for UEZ economic development projects and administration will be put on hold. The Economic Development Authority (EDA) will be charged with reviewing the structure of the current program, as well as undertaking an analysis to determine whether the UEZ concept is a good tool for encouraging economic development. Businesses in UEZ zones will also continue to charge half the standard sales tax rate and continue to receive some tax-related assistance.

State Rental Assistance Program

The State Rental Assistance Program (SRAP) was established in 2005 to supplement federal Section 8 rental assistance by enhancing and expanding rental subsidies for low income residents. SRAP and Section 8 target households earn up to 40% of median income, but SRAP goes further in that it targets most of its funding (75%) for very low income families (under 30% of median income). Due to a change in the way funding is provided for project-based assistance awarded to developers who build low-income rental units, the appropriation for SRAP will decline by $32.5 million. This change in accounting will not affect current voucher recipients. The fiscal 2011 Proposed Budget will support more than 4,300 individuals each month.

Corrections

The budget for the Department of Corrections continues to fund the core operations of the Department, including protecting the public by housing and supervising sentenced offenders; providing custody, care, discipline, rehabilitative programs, training, educational opportunities, and treatment of inmates; and cooperating with other law enforcement agencies in pursuit of a unified system of criminal justice.

Reduction of Payments to Counties

The State pays to house State inmates in county penal facilities. For fiscal 2010, a $10 million increase in the payments made to counties to house State inmates was needed due to the decision to close Riverfront Prison. The loss of institutional capacity resulted in more State-sentenced inmates staying for longer periods of time in the county facilities. For fiscal 2011, the Department will maximize bed capacity in the institutions through double-bunking; eliminating certain specialized units; converting certain units from minimum to medium security; and, to the maximum extent possible without jeopardizing community safety, increasing the use of community programs, for a total savings of $20.4 million.

Reduction of Overtime

The Department will reduce overtime costs through a reduction in the use of shift overlap.

Court-Ordered Relocation of Civilly Committed Sexual Offenders

New Jersey institutionalizes certain sex offenders who, after serving their original prison term, are considered to be likely to commit additional sex crimes. Pursuant to a court order, these offenders must be relocated from the current facility in Kearny by May, 2010. With the Kearny unit vacated, 73 uniform staff positions will be eliminated through attrition or reassignment.

Solutions Impacting the Business Community

Funds Shifted to Main Street Program

$22 million in resources will be redirected from the InvestNJ program to the Main Street Program. EDA has found a high demand from banks and businesses for this program.

Elimination of InvestNJ

The elimination of funding in fiscal 2011 for the InvestNJ program is a continuation of a fiscal 2010 decision.

Halt to Film Production Tax Credit

New Jersey offers a corporate business tax credit for qualified film production expenses up to an allocated $15 million. During fiscal 2010, $10 million in tax credits has been allocated to encourage film production while $5 million has been allocated for digital media production. The credit will be eliminated in fiscal 2011 while a review of the effectiveness of the tax credit in creating permanent, full-time jobs is evaluated.

Reduction in High-Tech Business Tax Credits

The proposed Budget anticipates a $30 million reduction, from $60 million to $30 million, in the amount of these tax credits. The program will continue at the reduced level while an evaluation of its success in meeting its goals is undertaken.

Collection of Funds From Regional Greenhouse Gas Initiative

During fiscal 2011, proceeds from the quarterly auction of greenhouse gas emission offsets, conducted under the Regional Greenhouse Gas Initiative (RGGI), will be used to balance the Budget. These funds have been used to provide grants through the Department of Environmental Protection, the Economic Development Authority, and the Board of Public Utilities.

Education

Aid to School Districts

During fiscal 2010, New Jersey used $1.057 billion of the $1.33 billion in federal fiscal stabilization stimulus funding as part of the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 (ARRA) to pay aid to school districts that had been provided by the State in prior years. Little thought was given to how this funding would be replaced in fiscal 2011. In addition to the growth needed to replace the one-time federal funding, the budget model for fiscal 2011 anticipated $670 million of growth in aid distributed through the School Funding Reform Act (SFRA) of 2008; $280.3 million of growth for school construction; $42 million for Extraordinary Special Education Aid; and $18 million for school building debt service aid. The total amount of new state education aid programmed into the model for the fiscal 2011 Budget was $1.8 billion, representing 16% of the total budget gap for the year.

Because the funds don't exist to replace the loss of federal funding and to pay for the increases anticipated by the school funding formula, State aid to school districts is being reduced. School districts will see a reduction in formula aid equal to no more than 4.99% of their original 2009-2010 General Fund budgets. Even with this reduction, schools should be able to provide a high quality education for children, given New Jersey's continued generous spending on schools compared to other states.

In addition, the State will continue to pay for the costs of teachers' pensions, post-retirement medical benefits and Social Security payments.

Funding for Extraordinary Special Education Aid is proposed at $154.99 million. While this represents an increase from $140.095 million appropriated in fiscal 2010, it is approximately 15% below the amount that had been programmed into the Fiscal 2011 Budget.

Non-public school aid will be reduced by 15%, from $93.53 million to $79.503 million.

Funding will remain flat for General Vocational Aid while there will be a slight increase in funding to schools for the cost of educating students without a known district of residence.

Funding for Adult Education and for the Educational Information Resource Center will be eliminated.

School Facilities Projects

A 15% reduction will be taken in all categories of debt service aid. Districts that have received financing for their projects through the Economic Development Authority (EDA) will be assessed an amount representing 15% of their proportionate share of the fiscal 2011 principal and interest payments on the outstanding bonds issued for the program.

Preschool Education Aid

There will be no expansion of the preschool education program.

After School Care

State support for New Jersey After 3 will end. New Jersey After 3 is a private, nonprofit organization dedicated to improving after-school opportunities.

Environmental Protection

Funding Reduced for Office of Climate Change and Energy

The Office of Climate Change and Energy is responsible for implementing provisions of the Global Warming Response Act. It is primarily funded by proceeds from the auction of greenhouse gas emission offsets as part of the Regional Greenhouse Gas Initiative (RGGI). The General Fund appropriation to the Office will be eliminated for fiscal 2011.

Health

Increased Hospital Funding

For fiscal 2011, the level of State funding available to support hospitals will increase. New revenues will be made available to hospitals, which can be used to match an identical amount of federal funding. The Proposed Budget recommends that the limit on collections from the 0.53% assessment on hospital revenues no longer be capped at $40 million. In addition, the $200,000 cap on the ambulatory care assessment will be lifted. Together these two changes will generate an additional $45 million which will be matched with federal funds and redistributed to the hospitals. Hospitals will collectively receive $11 million in additional funding in fiscal 2011 even after the increased assessment is taken into account.

Changes in Co-Pays in Pharmaceutical Assistance Programs

The Pharmaceutical Assistance to the Aged and Disabled (PAAD) program provides prescription drug assistance to residents 65 years of age or older, or 18 years of age or older and receiving Social Security Title II Disability benefits, with 2010 income of $24,432 or less if single or $29,956 or less if married. Currently, PAAD recipients are required to enroll in Medicare Part D, with PAAD covering the Medicare Part D monthly premium on behalf of recipients. Beginning on January 1, 2011, PAAD beneficiaries will be required to cover an annual deductible of $310, which is the deductible amount required by Medicare Part D. The fiscal 2011 Proposed Budget also anticipates that the co-payment for brand name drugs will increase from $7 to $15, while the co-payment for generic drug prescriptions will decline from $6 to $5. The lowest income PAAD eligibles will not be impacted by the co-payment change.

Reducing Costs in Senior Gold

Senior Gold provides coverage to approximately 23,000 seniors with income below $34,432 if single and $39,956 if married. Current recipients are required to enroll in Medicare Part D, with Senior Gold only covering those prescriptions not on the formulary of a recipient's Part D provider. Beginning on January 1, 2011, Senior Gold recipients will be required to cover the annual $310 deductible. Senior Gold will continue to pay for coverage in the coverage gap (doughnut hole) from $2,830 to $4,550 in annual spending, and half of the 25% coinsurance requirement after the recipients provide a $15 co-pay.

Nursing Homes

The amount available to support nursing homes for taking care of Medicaid clients remains at the level provided in fiscal 2010. Growth of $56.6 million, representing a 6% per diem rate increase and a slight increase in the trend of total patient days, has not been funded. In an effort to reimburse nursing homes more fairly for treating the sickest patients, and to ensure facilities are provided with incentives to control costs, a new industry-supported rate setting system will be implemented during fiscal 2011.

Enhanced nursing home acuity audits will be undertaken at an increased level during the next fiscal year. The Department anticipates that an additional $250,000 in State funds will allow for the audit of all nursing home facilities that have yet to be reviewed. Based on past experience, it is reasonable to believe that the State can recover at least $2.5 million in inappropriately paid claims.

Tobacco Programs

No funding is proposed during fiscal 2011 for Anti-Smoking and Youth Anti-Smoking appropriations. When these programs were initially established, funding was to come from a portion of the annual payment from the Tobacco Settlement Litigation. The decision to use settlement proceeds to support non-health related spending exhausted this once promising source of revenue. State increases in cigarette taxes to $2.70 a pack last year have been a successful deterrent to smoking, especially among teenagers.

Family Planning Services

Funding for grants to support clinical family planning and related services is eliminated.

Human Services

Deinstitutionalization

The Department will begin the process of closing two institutions during fiscal 2011. The Division of Developmental Disabilities (DDD) is committed to the closure of a developmental center campus and its preferred option is to close the Vineland Developmental Center-West Campus, which currently houses 110 residents. DDD's proposal anticipates the closure of the campus by June 30, 2011, and estimates this will result in savings of about $160,000 in fiscal 2011.

The Division of Mental Health Services (DMHS) will close the Hagedorn Psychiatric Hospital in Hunterdon County by the end of fiscal 2011, in part because of an agreement with a patient advocacy group. The proposed Budget anticipates savings of $7.622 million as a result of this initiative.

DDD also intends to aggressively pursue its Return to New Jersey initiative, which brings clients that have been placed in out-of-State facilities back to community residential settings in New Jersey. This will generate $960,000 in new federal Medicaid matching funds that are not available in out-of-state placements.

Increase Contributions to Care

The Division of Developmental Disabilities proposes to increase contributions to care from its community-based clients. DDD generally requires that clients pay 75% of their Supplemental Security Income (SSI) checks, after excluding a $40 Personal Needs Allowance (PNA). Beginning in fiscal 2011, DDD will keep 100% of clients' SSI benefits, but the PNA will be increased from $40 to $100 per month.

The wraparound portion of the Kinship Care grants program will be reduced from $1,000 to $500. The Kinship Care program provides child care subsidies and various support services to working, disabled and elderly kinship caregivers who have taken on the responsibility of caring for their relatives' children. The wraparound portion of this program provides grants for certain one-time costs, including furniture purchases, clothing, moving, or short-term help with utility bills, rent or mortgage payments. During fiscal 2010, $3.6 million was available for the grants; in fiscal 2011, the program will be reduced by one half.

Beginning in September 2010, co-payments will be charged to certain families who receive free after-school and summer child care. Reducing the income limit will bring the co-payments for these families in line with all other Division of Family Development administered child care programs.

Freeze on NJ FamilyCare Enrollment for Adults

The Proposed Fiscal 2011 Budget provides additional funding to cover growth in enrollment and rates in the FamilyCare Children's portion of the program. No change in eligibility standards is recommended for children.

Enrollment for parents between 134%-200% of the Federal Poverty Level in NJ FamilyCare was frozen on March 1, 2010. The Fiscal 2011 Budget assumes no new enrollees will be accepted under this part of the program, resulting in budgetary savings of $24.63 million. The freeze is projected to affect 39,000 adults.

The termination of NJ FamilyCare benefits for restricted alien adults will begin on April 1, 2010. Savings in fiscal 2011 will total $29.8 million.

Targeted Reductions in General Assistance (GA)

The payment of cash assistance to able-bodied singles and childless couples is replaced with a transitional program that will provide enhanced employment assistance and emergency assistance to former General Assistance-Employable cash assistance recipients.

The Department of Human Services anticipates that during fiscal 2011 the federal government will approve its waiver application for the State to receive a 50% Medicaid match (FMAP) for certain services provided to childless adults. The waiver application specifically addresses expenses for new hospital and behavioral health benefits to the GA population. Currently these expenses are covered by Charity Care.

More Efficient Payment of Child Care Assistance

This initiative will move Child Care payments from vouchers to the Electronic Benefits Transfer (EBT) payment system, similar to the system used to provide Food Stamps. This transition will cut down on fraudulent payments, eliminate delays due to lost or misdirected mail, reduce data entry errors, speed up payments to providers, and decrease the administrative and operational costs associated with the contracted Child Care Resource and Referral agencies. Savings are estimated at $15.72 million and are based on identification of fraud, attendance issues, delays and errors, and administrative cost savings from the elimination of paper vouchers.

Higher Education

For fiscal 2011, State support for higher education is proposed at $2.068 billion, which is a $173 million reduction from fiscal 2010. Even with the reduced level of resources available during the next fiscal year, the State will maintain its commitment to its four-year institutions, community colleges and, most importantly, New Jersey residents who choose to attend an in-state institution. Governor Christie is calling for a series of reform initiatives to help institutions of higher education in reducing their operating costs. The Governor is proposing that State colleges and universities be able to conduct collective bargaining on their own behalf, manage their own workers' compensation programs and claims for workplace injury, and opt out of Civil Service.

Senior Public Institutions

Mandatory growth of $46.0 million in the cost to support fringe benefits at the Senior Public institutions will be provided in fiscal 2011. This growth is offset by a $155.7 million reduction in State support to the Senior Public Institutions.

Community Colleges

Operating support for county colleges is reduced by $14.3 million. This level will support the amounts required to maintain New Jersey's eligibility for federal stimulus funding for higher education. Community colleges will continue to receive funds from the Supplemental Workforce Fund for Basic Skills to offset the cost of remedial courses provided by the institutions.

Tuition Assistance

State assistance is provided to college students through a myriad of aid and scholarship programs. The largest of these, the Tuition Aid Grant (TAG) program, is a need-based entitlement program that supports tuition costs for needy New Jersey students who attend New Jersey colleges and universities. For fiscal 2011, anticipated growth in the program will not be funded. Similarly, the Proposed Budget does not fund anticipated growth in the Part-Time Tuition Aid Grant program. In addition, the TAG awards for first-time recipients at Independent Institutions will be reduced to the comparable State college award level.

A slight reduction of 8.7% is proposed for the Educational Opportunity Fund. An allocation of $37.6 million will remain available to provide higher education opportunities to students who come from low-income families in economically distressed areas of the state.

NJ STARS I and NJ STARS II are merit-based scholarships that are awarded to high achieving students who attend a New Jersey county college and then continue at a four-year New Jersey college or university. For fiscal 2011, no incoming freshman will be accepted into the NJ STARS I program. No current STARS scholarships will be affected by the funding reduction.

Independent Institutions of Higher Education

Over the years the State Budget has included direct support to New Jersey's 14 "public mission" independent institutions of higher education. For fiscal 2011, the State will not be able to provide this support. The $17.47 million appropriated in fiscal 2010 is a small proportion of both institutional revenue and undergraduate tuition and fees. This reduction can be absorbed without major impacts on institutional revenues or tuition rates.

Labor And Workforce Development

Vocational Rehabilitation

The rates paid to Vocational Rehabilitation services to disabled clients will decline by 10% during fiscal 2011, from $6,560 to $5,935 per slot. In addition, the reimbursement rates paid to the Vocational Rehabilitation transportation program will be reduced. Funding for Sheltered Workshop Transportation will be limited to amounts available from the Casino Revenue Fund.

Law And Public Safety

State Police

The proposed fiscal 2011 Budget includes a series of funding reductions for the Division of State Police. There will be no new State Police recruit class for fiscal 2011. A new class would have resulted in additional fiscal 2011 State costs in excess of $8.3 million. The Division's Proposed Budget includes $500,000 for recruiting purposes and assumes a training class will be held early in fiscal 2012.

The Division also will defer its purchase of new cars to late in the fiscal year for savings of $1.84 million.

During fiscal 2011, the Division anticipates the receipt of two of the five new MedEvac helicopters that will be purchased by the State. Two of the helicopters being replaced will be sold before the end of the fiscal year, providing $7 million of revenue to offset the purchase.

Juvenile Justice Commission

The Commission anticipates the reconfiguration of its facilities at the New Jersey Training School as well as consolidation of space at its Juvenile Medium Security Facility. These changes will result in savings of more than $5.5 million.

Military And Veterans Affairs

The Proposed Budget for the Department of Military and Veterans Affairs (DMAVA) preserves funding for the core mission of the Department. While slight reductions in funding are proposed, the Department anticipates achieving these savings through efficiencies. DMAVA also is working with the University of Medicine and Dentistry to automate medical records, which should provide savings in the long term.

Public Advocate

The Fiscal 2011 Proposed Budget anticipates the elimination of the Department of the Public Advocate. As of April 1, 2010, the unclassified staff in the Division of Public Interest Advocacy; Division of Advocacy for the Developmentally Disabled; and Division of Administration, including the Office of the Public Advocate, will be eliminated.

The Office of Citizen Relations within the Department of the Public Advocate will be consolidated with the Governor's Office of Constituent Relations. A review of both offices found them to be duplicative, with overlapping responsibilities.

State

Various commissions within the Department of State will be consolidated under a single Division of Programs, with a streamlined staff, to improve the efficiency and effectiveness of these programs. The commissions to be consolidated include: the Amistad Commission; the Martin Luther King, Jr. Commemorative Commission; and the Office of Faith-Based Initiatives.

Various grants awarded to specific entities through the Department of State will now be awarded through either the Cultural Grants program of the New Jersey Council on the Arts or the New Jersey Historical Commission's Agency Grants program.

New Jersey Network

New Jersey's subsidy of New Jersey Network (NJN) will be reduced by 50%, from $4.0 million to $2.0 million. This reduction assumes that NJN will operate independently and New Jersey will no longer be in the public television business as of January 1, 2011.

Transportation

New Jersey Transit (NJT) will make certain significant changes during the next 16 months in order to close a significant structural gap in its Budget. The level of the State subsidy proposed for New Jersey Transit assumes NJT will reduce staff, implement a fare increase, eliminate certain discounts, and reduce or eliminate services. Without these changes, the State subsidy would have increased by more than $270 million.

Treasury

Reforming Property Tax Relief and Freezing Eligibility in the Senior and Disabled Citizens' Property Tax Reimbursement Program

The Homestead Rebate program will be reformed. Checks will no longer be mailed to eligible homeowners. Instead a credit will be provided on the property tax bill, beginning in the second quarter of 2011.

The Senior and Disabled Citizens' Property Tax Reimbursement (Senior Freeze) program will not accept new applicants during Fiscal Year 2011. In addition, current Senior Freeze recipients will see their reimbursement limited to last year's amount. During the next fiscal year, approximately 159,000 seniors and disabled citizens will receive reimbursement averaging about $1,041. It is estimated that the average growth per recipient not funded is approximately $282.

Earned Income Tax Credit

The Earned Income Tax Credit (EITC) program provides a benefit of $225 million to approximately 485,000 New Jersey households by providing a state tax benefit equal to 25% of the federal benefit. For fiscal 2011, the benefit will be reduced to 20% of the federal benefit. New Jersey's benefit is one of the most generous in the country. At the reduced rate, New Jersey will be more in line with the average benefit in the 23 other states that offer the credit.

State Employees

The fiscal 2010 Budget included savings from employees as negotiated by the prior Administration. These negotiations also built growth in for fiscal 2011. Raises of between 7% and 11% must be provided. Also, any reduction in the State workforce other than through attrition is prohibited until at least January 1, 2011. These contract changes made promises that the State cannot afford. In order to achieve savings from the operations of State government, Governor Christie has established a task force to examine areas where government services and functions can be provided by the private sector. A final report is due by May 31, 2010, which will allow a seven-month period to implement the recommendations.

Contributions to Pension Systems

The State will not make its required pension payment during fiscal 2011. It is understood that the deferral of this $3.06 billion payment will lead to a larger unfunded liability and greater costs in the out years. This is why it is essential to undertake significant pension reform.

Governor Christie is proposing a series of reforms to help municipalities and school districts lower costs and ease the burden on taxpayers. The Governor is recommending benefit reforms that would require employee contributions to health coverage that equal or exceed required contributions made by State employees. The reforms also would repeal the increase in the formula for all pension service credit earned, for current as well as future employees, to the extent permitted by law.

Constitutional Limit on Property Taxes

Providing Critical Property Tax Relief That Works

In 1980, Massachusetts was facing a similar economic and fiscal picture as New Jersey is today. Property taxes were out of control and taxpayers were suffering as Massachusetts struggled to regain its economic footing. To deal with burdensome property taxes, in 1982 Massachusetts implemented a constitutional amendment that was approved by voters in 1980. The proposition enacted a levy cap that prevents a property tax levy increase of more than 2 ½% annually.

Massachusetts has an honest levy cap, generally without exemptions and special deals. It does, however, accommodate growth in ratables, which, in turn, allows local entities to accommodate increasing service demands. It also encourages municipalities, school districts and counties to reduce annual tax increases below the 2 ½% by allowing them to “bank” the unused amount for future use. Governing bodies that wish to exceed the levy cap may seek voter approval to do so.

The result was a drop in the local tax burden. In 1977, Massachusetts had the 3rd highest local tax burden and in 2005 it had the 33rd highest.

Limiting Property Taxes and Reforming Government Spending

New Jerseyans currently pay the highest property taxes in the country. The Tax Foundation estimates that at 11.8% of income, New Jersey's state and local tax burden percentage is the highest in the country. This is well above the national average of 9.7% (The Tax Foundation, July 2009).

In 2004, the property tax average was $5,617 and in 2009 it was a staggering $7,281. This was an increase of nearly 30% over the course of five years (NJ Dept. of Community Affairs).

If one thing is clear, it's that New Jerseyans cannot afford to pay higher property taxes.

The levy cap under current law has been ineffective in imposing fiscal discipline and holding down local property taxes. Governor Christie recommends a constitutional amendment that would impose a “hard” annual levy cap of 2 ½%. Like Massachusetts' levy cap, the New Jersey levy cap would be adjusted for increases in ratables, and local entities that do not spend up to the levy cap would be allowed to “bank” the extra levy and use it in subsequent years. Local governing bodies could ask their voters to exceed the levy cap through referenda.

The State cannot ask localities to adhere to standards that it itself is not willing to meet. Accordingly, the Governor recommends a constitutional amendment to cap spending on direct State government service increases at 2 ½% a year. This cap will force local governments to find waste, abuse and inefficiencies in their own operations. Every community across New Jersey recognizes that it can do more with less. Now is the time to act.

However, until the voters are able to vote on and approve a constitutional amendment, the Fiscal 2011 Budget recommends legislation that would:

- Limit cap exceptions;
- Repeal provisions of the current law that provide automatic cap growth to offset decreases in State aid;
- Lower the levy and spending caps to 2 ½ %; and
- Permit banking of unused cap.

A Taxpayer's Tool Kit to Fight Property Tax Increases

Governor Christie's Fiscal Year 2011 Budget builds a "tool kit" that protects taxpayers while empowering local governments and school districts to manage their budgets more effectively without raising property taxes. This tool kit provides critical assistance that will help provide services at prices taxpayers can afford.

Working With Municipalities to Create Fiscal Discipline

The challenge the Christie Administration is facing amid New Jersey's fiscal emergency is not confined to State government alone. Local governments are facing similar difficulties – depressed revenue, reduced aid, and fewer resources.

Governor Christie recognizes that the only way to overcome this current crisis and rebuild New Jersey's economy is by working together. Difficult economic times call for shared sacrifice, which is why every community, town, and county must do its part.

Restoring fiscal discipline may be difficult, but the answer is not to raise taxes on families who already bear the highest tax burdens in the nation. To reduce property taxes, municipalities must look inward and conduct the same rigorous reviews of services and programs that the Christie Administration is performing in State government.

Many local governments run very efficiently, but there are also numerous examples of extreme waste and misuse of taxpayer dollars:

- One municipality paid $15,000 per month to lobby Congress, and $8,500 per month for State lobbying expenses;
- Another paid nearly $288,000 in 2008 to a vendor under a 2006 emergency resolution that limited payments to approximately $117,000; and,
- Still another community awarded a no-bid contract in excess of $42,000 for floor coverings.

There are also numerous examples of city governments that have done innovative things to reduce their expenses and provide top-notch services for their communities:

- Mark Smith, the Mayor of Bayonne, conducted an extensive review of municipal operations that will produce better, less-costly government, including opportunities to downsize the number of departments, consolidate human resource services, and enhance the use of information technology. The new structure reduces departments from nine to four, intelligently consolidates services, and enables divisions to share employees and maximize productivity.
- In Haddon Heights, Mayor Scott Alexander conducted a review to optimize performance and make better use of people, processes, and technology. The town has adopted zero-based budgeting, lowered employee costs, and contracted with private companies to perform government services where it was cost effective and quality could be maintained. In 2009, Mayor Alexander cut department budgets across the board, fully met the city's pension obligations, and invested in economic development opportunities, without receiving a dime of Extraordinary Aid from the State.

To make it possible for more municipalities to provide services at prices that taxpayers can afford, the Christie Administration is providing the additional tools to help communities achieve the same kind of successes that Mayor Smith and Mayor Alexander have engineered. These include:

Collective Bargaining Reform

In order to help local governments lower costs and ease the burden on taxpayers, Governor Christie is calling for bargaining reform at the local level. The current statutory framework unfairly favors the interests of public sector unions against taxpayers. To level the playing field, the Governor recommends legislation to provide that:

- No municipality or county contract award, inclusive of benefit costs, may exceed the statutory or constitutional levy cap;
- The Executive Branch of State government will select arbitrators for municipalities and counties; and
- Arbitrators must specifically take into account the impact on property taxes in reaching their decisions.

Employee Benefits Reform

To reduce runaway benefit costs, the Governor recommends legislation that would:

- Repeal the N/55 increase in benefits formula for all pension service credit earned in the future, for current as well as future employees, to the extent permitted by law;
- Require employee contributions to health benefits that equal or exceed required contributions made by State employees under the New Jersey State Health Benefits Program;
- Cap payouts for accrued sick leave at $15,000 for current as well as future employees.

Election Reform

The Governor recommends enactment of legislation to move school board and fire district elections to November.

Civil Service Reform

The Governor recommends legislation amending civil service rules to eliminate obstacles to cost-saving local shared service and consolidation initiatives and to permit furloughs at the municipal and county levels. The Governor further recommends legislation that would permit municipalities and counties to opt out of Civil Service.

Extending Refund Offset Authority to Local Governments

The Governor recommends legislation that will allow local governments to offset unpaid property taxes against State gross income tax refunds.

Enabling School Districts to Do More with Less

Faced with the loss of $1.1 billion in non-recurring federal stimulus funding that was used for education funding in the Fiscal Year 2010 Budget, this year's spending plan dedicates nearly $70 million more of State funds to education aid than last year. Still, the loss of most federal stimulus funds will mean that total aid to New Jersey's school districts will fall by $820 million. Great care was taken to ensure that no school district will lose more in formula aid than 4.99% of its original Fiscal 2010 Budget.

The Christie Administration plans to work with school districts to deal with this loss in education aid and help districts find reasonable savings and prepare efficient and workable budgets.

Collective Bargaining Reform

To help school districts lower costs, Governor Christie is calling for collective bargaining reform at the local level. The current statutory framework unfairly favors the interests of public employee unions to the detriment of taxpayers. To level the playing field, the Governor recommends legislation to ensure that:

- No school district's union contract, inclusive of benefit costs, may exceed the statutory or constitutional levy cap;
- School districts can once again impose a "last, best offer" contract under certain circumstances.

Employee Benefits Reform

To help school districts reduce runaway benefit costs, the Governor recommends legislation that would:

- Require Executive County Superintendent approval for all school district contracts. Approval shall be withheld for contracts that:
  - Increase salaries and benefits, more than the statutory or constitutional levy cap;
  - Fail to include cost sharing for health benefits;
  - Fail to mandate a minimum of not less than five hours of pupil contact per day for teaching staff;
  - Fail to specify a minimum number of work days for staff; or
  - Bar the contracting out of auxiliary and ancillary services.

Management Reforms

Empower Executive County Superintendents to implement sharing of school business functions across districts and municipalities.

Making Higher Education More Affordable

New Jersey's public institutions of higher education are struggling under the weight of arcane decision and policy-making criteria. These impediments to affordability are driving up the cost of tuition and driving away the state's best and brightest. The Christie Administration is proposing reforms that will empower New Jersey's higher education community and ultimately drive down tuition costs.

Bargaining Reform

Collective bargaining for unionized employees at State college and universities should be removed from State management. The State is not the employer of record; nor does it pay these employees' salary. Affected employees are about 80% of all employees on campuses. The Governor recommends legislation that would allow State colleges and universities to conduct collective bargaining on their own behalf.

- If colleges and universities do not gain the power to conduct negotiations, colleges and universities, or the individual boards of trustees, should gain the right to accept or reject terms proposed by the State for collectively-negotiated contracts that affect college and university employees.

Risk Management

The Governor recommends empowering State colleges and universities to manage their own workers' compensation programs and claims for workplace illness and injury. Compensation payments from State colleges and universities to the State have increased 100% in five years. Similarly, health claims from workplace illness and injury increased 146%, from $500,000 in fiscal 2000 to $1.3 million a year in fiscal 2005.

Plan Reviews and Field Inspections

The Governor recommends legislation authorizing the Department of Community Affairs to either contract with private firms directly or delegate such authority to State colleges and universities. Currently, persistent plan review and field inspection delays result in increased construction costs.

Civil Service Reform

The Governor recommends legislation that would permit State colleges and universities to opt out of Civil Service. State colleges and universities' classified employees should not be subject to State Civil Service rules. Affected employees account for approximately 40% of all employees on these campuses.

Government Management Agenda: Best Practices

A majority of the State's Budget ultimately goes to localities, schools, and third-party service providers with a broad range of management capacity. Although the State cannot and should not micromanage its local governments and service providers, New Jersey's taxpayers have the right to expect that anyone who spends their money follows minimum standards of transparency and financial management.

Best Practices in Our Schools

To ensure the sound use of State resources in support of our schools, the Governor will direct the Commissioner of the Department of Education to promulgate voluntary Best Practice Standards applicable to all schools in New Jersey. These standards, building on the existing mandatory Fiscal Accountability Regulations, shall include, but not be limited to, standards with respect to:

- Budget process and financial transparency;
- Conflicts of interest;
- Open and competitive procurement;
- Optimization of transportation resources;
- Auxiliary and/or ancillary services;
- Risk management; and
- Capital planning.

Best Practices in Local Government

To ensure the sound use of State resources in municipal government, the Governor would authorize the Commissioner of the Department of Community Affairs to promulgate and enforce Best Practice Standards as a condition of receiving State aid. These would include, but not be limited to, standards with respect to:

- Budget process, open government, and financial transparency;
- Conflicts of interest;
- Open and competitive procurement;
- Employee salary and benefit structures;
- Risk management; and
- Capital planning.

The Commissioner would be authorized to withhold all or portion of the final State aid payment in December on a locality's commitment to the Best Practice Standards, using an objective point system that measures and incentivizes relative, rather than absolute, progress.

Examples of individual standards might include: (a) Maintaining a website that includes postings of budget documents, meeting schedules, minutes of meetings, salaries of public employees and other legal, publishable documents; (b) Procurement of professional services through a "fair and open" process; (c)

Performing a formal public records inventory; (d) Issuing a Request for Proposal for banking services within the last four years; and (e) Eliminating health benefits for elected officials, unless they are full-time employees. Additional examples may be found in Best Practices for Awarding Service Contracts, a report issued by the Office of the State Comptroller on March 10, 2010.

Best Practices for Third-Party Social Service Providers

To ensure the sound use of State resources by third-party social service providers, the Governor would authorize the Treasurer to direct the inclusion of a Best Practices Addendum to all State contracts for social services. The Addendum would include, but not be limited to, the following:

- Prohibiting the use of contracted funds to support lobbying activities;
- Defining the extent that State contract funds can be applied to executive compensation, fringe benefits, administrative expenses, and travel and meeting costs; and
- Requiring annual provider certifications of compliance with all State program standards.

Where Does the Money Go?

State Aid and Grants Represent Nearly Three Quarters of the Budget

Total Budget is $28.3 Billion
The cost of State Government operations is $6 billion

State Aid: includes education aid programs, municipal aid, general assistance, and aid to county colleges.

Grant-In-Aid: includes property tax relief programs, medicaid, pharmaceutical assistance to the aged and disabled, nursing home and long-term care alternative programs, and support for higher education.

Operations Executive: includes funding for adult prisons and juvenile facilities, state police and other law enforcement programs, human services institutions, veterans' homes, children and families.

(1) Total Debt Service is $2.5 billion; School Construction Debt is reflected in State Aid. In addition to the $2.5 billion of appropriations utilized in support of debt service, the State forgoes more than $400 million of revenues dedicated to paying off deficit bonds issued in 2002, 2003, and 2004.

A Commitment to Transparency

The day after assuming office, the Christie Administration issued an executive order holding State government to the highest levels of transparency. Executive Order Number 8 calls for an unprecedented openness about how the State spends taxpayers' money.

New Jersey's First Tax Expenditure Report

In the spirit of the Executive Order and in response to a new law enacted on January 12, 2010, the Department of the Treasury has issued New Jersey's first annual report on tax expenditures, listing the revenue impact attributable to provisions of State tax law. ## SUMMARY OF APPROPRIATIONS MAJOR INCREASES AND DECREASES

This table summarizes the major increases and decreases in the Fiscal 2011 Budget and is organized by category.

Categories of recommended appropriations are defined as follows:

State Operations consists of programs and services operated directly by the State government. The largest single component is for the salary and benefits of State employees. This portion of the Budget is subject to the spending limitations imposed by the Cap Law.

Grants-in-Aid appropriations are for programs and services provided to the public on behalf of the State by a third party provider, or grants made directly to individuals based on assorted program eligibility criteria. The Medicaid program, Tuition Aid Grant Program, Homestead Rebates, payments for State inmates housed in county jails, and funding for New Jersey Transit and State colleges and universities fall into this category.

State Aid consists of payments to or on behalf of counties, municipalities, and school districts to assist them in carrying out their local responsibilities. In addition to school aid, this category of expenditure includes the Consolidated Municipal Property Tax Relief Aid program and other forms of municipal aid. It also includes funding for county colleges, local public assistance and county psychiatric hospital costs.

Capital Construction represents pay-as-you-go allocations for construction and other infrastructure items.

Debt Service payments represent the interest and principal on capital projects funded through the sale of general obligation bonds.
