TRENTON, NJ - The New Jersey Civil Service Commission (CSC) will be hosting the first of a series of Statewide Job Fairs this year on Wednesday, March 13, 2024, at Rowan College of South New Jersey, Scott Hall, 1400 Tanyard Road, Sewell, NJ 08080 from 9:30 am to 1:30 pm.

Over 45 state departments, agencies, colleges, and universities will be in attendance to promote their missions, explain their organization's responsibilities, highlight open job positions, promote opportunities for career advancement, and answer any questions the job seekers may have.

"CSC is pleased at the opportunity to host this job fair." said Allison Chris Myers, Chair & Chief Executive Officer of the New Jersey Civil Service Commission. "It is gratifying to connect State departments, schools, and agencies that have promising job opportunities with talented job seekers. We are committed to increasing career advancement opportunities in New Jersey while addressing the needs of New Jersey's workforce."

There are a wide range of public service job opportunities available, including careers in IT, law enforcement, the social sciences, education, and business-related fields. Some of the job titles include finance and customer service, nurses, social workers, engineers, medical records clerks, and food service workers.

"Providing access to job opportunities for a career in public service to the state's workforce is a fundamental purpose of the agency's mission to provide diversity, equity, and inclusion resources," said Charlie Williams, PhD., Executive Director of CSC's Office of Diversity Programs. "We are also very fortunate to partner with Rowan College of South New Jersey and Dean Brigette D. Satchell for this important effort."

Some of the government agencies, colleges, and universities that will be hiring at the event include NJ Civil Service Commission, NJ Department of State, NJ Department of Education, Stockton University, NJ Department of Health, and more.
