Commissioner asked if the assignment of mortgages would constitute a default under legislation that bars future State funding to parties declared in default. John Murray indicated he could not be sure about the results under the legislation, but at no time has the project been issued a declaration of default. Kavin Mistry further added that it would be based on the facts and circumstances of the particular case, but this did not appear to be a default. Dorothy Blakeslee asked if there are any tax or financial consequences to the owner or the Agency as a result of assigning the mortgages for $1. John Murray indicated there is no tax consequence to the sponsor since we are assigning the notes and not forgiving them. He further added the Agency had already reserved against these loan losses. Lastly, Commissioner Richman re-stated that but for tax credit requirements to structure these funds as loans, they were always intended to be issued as grants, so there was no expectation of repayment to the Agency to begin with.
