

2003 Health Advisories For Eating Fish And Crabs Caught In New Jersey Waters

Important Health Information

Fishing provides enjoyable and relaxing recreation. Many people enjoy cooking and eating their own catch. Fish are an excellent source of protein, minerals and vitamins, and play a role in maintaining a healthy, well-balanced diet.

However, since 1982, when research demonstrated elevated levels of potentially harmful contaminants in certain fish and crabs in some New Jersey waters, advisories were adopted to guide citizens on safe consumption practices. Fish consumption advisories are developed through a scientific process that includes collecting samples of fish from waters throughout the state and analyzing them for various chemical contaminants, such as dioxin, polychlorinated biphenyls (PCBs), chlordane and mercury. The contaminant levels in the fish are then evaluated using federal guidelines for protecting human health. Chemical contaminants, such as dioxin, PCBs and chlordane are classified by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency as probable cancer-causing substances in humans, while elevated levels of mercury can pose health risks to the human nervous system, particularly to a developing fetus. Recently, the New Jersey Department of Environmental Protection completed a new round of sampling and analysis which indicated state fish consumption advisories needed to be updated and expanded.

Over the past several years, the Fish and Wildlife Digest has highlighted the state's fish consumption advisories. These consumption advisories consist of statewide, regional and water-body-specific warnings for a variety of fish species and fish consumers. Because of the large volume of information included in the updated advisories, a separate, more detailed brochure has been developed to help you make informed choices on fish consumption to reduce your exposure to harmful contaminants. The 2003 Fish Advisory brochure will include contaminant information, advisory charts, and preparation and cooking methods to reduce contaminant levels in the fish you catch. The brochure will contain guidelines, advisories and prohibitions that are in effect for 2003. It also will contain charts and information about consumption advisories issued by the states of Pennsylvania, Delaware and New York that cover shared waters.

We encourage you to consult the 2003 Fish Advisory Brochure when making decisions about eating recreationally caught fish and crabs. It is important to follow this information when preparing and eating the species taken from waters listed.

Recycling On The Water

The state marina at Forked River makes it easy to recycle and discard your trash.

Planning to spend some time on the water this summer? More than likely you'll be far from home. Maybe you live far inland and transport your boat to the shore. Or perhaps you'll sail up and down the coast, staying at marinas along the way. While you're on the water you must realize it is even more important to take responsibility for your trash.

It has become more common for state and federal parks to designate public areas as "Carry In, Carry Out". Inconvenient, right? You probably weren't thinking about the garbage you would produce when selecting food items with thick wrapping and stiff containers. When at home, this trash is no trouble. But parks systems found they couldn't keep up with the trash vacationers were producing. Whether you're in the park or on the water, you need to contain the wrappers, bags, bottles and all the rest. Take them back to civilization where the trash can be disposed of properly, and the recyclable can be returned to industry.

As important as it is to recycle at home, it becomes even more important when you're visiting an aquatic ecosystem. Every liquid that reaches the soil quickly moves underground potentially poisoning the open water. And of course anything you put over the side while you're away from shore will contaminate the water directly. Trash that isn't contained properly easily blows over the side and adds to the clutter of man-made materials that are so common in our recreational waterways.

As a vacationer, your recyclable material will be mostly food containers and used motor fluids. It's difficult to know what to recycle when you're traveling; each county or even each state has its own collection requirements. The marinas used to dock or launch your boat may offer the help you need. Many supply collection containers for the items that the county recycles, including motor oil. You can also recycle your oil at any Jiffy Lube, Bridgestone-Firestone dealer, or Pep Boys. For more information contact the county coordinators:

Skillful Angler Awards Program

The Skillful Anglers Program is designed to supplement the New Jersey State Record Fish list by recognizing that many anglers catch both freshwater and marine fish just below the record, but are of sufficient size and weight to have tested the angler's skill and thus be worthy of recognition.

Fisherman qualifying for a Skillful Anglers Award receive a signed certificate attesting to their achievement along with a bronze pin suitable to be worn on a fishing hat, or jacket. Only one pin and one certificate will be awarded per angler for each qualifying entry.

At the end of each year, special recognition is given to the anglers who caught the largest fish in each species categories. These winners are presented with a Special Award recognizing their accomplishments as the best of New Jersey's Skillful Anglers.

An application explaining the details of the program can be obtained from any many fishing tackle stores and Division offices, by calling us at (609) 984-0521, or writing: NJ Division of Fish & Wildlife, PO Box 400, Trenton, NJ 08625-0400.

It's simple to apply for an award: 1) Weigh the fish at a commercial establishment having a certified scale, [try a fishing tackle shop who also has applications], 2) Get the proprietor's signature on the application attesting to the weight, 3) Complete an application and return to the address on the application. All entries must be submitted within 30 days of catching the fish.

Outdoor Skills Workshop for Women

Learn a new skill...like kayaking.

New Jersey's "Becoming an Outdoors-Woman" (BOW) Program is part of a nationwide effort to help women overcome barriers to participation in outdoor recreation by providing opportunities to try new activities. Since it began at the University of Wisconsin in 1991, the program has exploded in popularity. BOW can be found in 44 states and eight Canadian Provinces across North America. New Jersey Division of Fish and Wildlife has been offering BOW workshops since 1995.

Although BOW workshops are designed for women, they offer anyone 18 years old or older opportunities to try new outdoor activities, improve existing skills, and meet other outdoor enthusiasts. The three-day BOW and one-day "Beyond BOW" workshops offer hands-on instruction in hunting, angling, and related outdoor pursuits in a relaxed, non-competitive atmosphere.

All of our instructors have many years of experience afield. They were chosen for their ability to pass on their knowledge and their belief in encouraging anyone who has an interest to get involved in the outdoors.

To find out more about the BOW program, log on to our website at www.njfishandwildlife.com or mail in the coupon below. Those with an e-mail account can subscribe to the BOW list-serve (electronic mail service). The BOW list-serve will send automatic updates about the BOW program and workshop availability. It's simple to subscribe. Go to the Division's website at www.njfishandwildlife.com and click on the link for mailing lists located on the left-hand side of the homepage. Fill out the electronic form and click submit. That's it! A confirmation message will ask you to return an authorization code. Once this is done, you'll be ready to receive automatic updates about New Jersey Division of Fish and Wildlife's BOW Program.

To be placed on the BOW mailing list, complete this coupon and send to: NJF&W, 220 Blue Anchor Rd., Sicklerville, NJ 08081.

Evan F. Nappen, Esq., "the gun law guru," is an attorney dedicated to defending constitutional liberties. His extensive technical knowledge of guns, knives, weapons and an in-depth comprehension of NJ law allows him to advise honest citizens of their rights, how to save their possessions and stay out of jail.

Mr. Nappen's website at www.evannappen.com features daily gun news with new headlines and article links continuously updated. From his office in Eatontown, NJ, he provides legal assistance to gun owners from Sussex to Cape May. In addition to being a member of the NJ and PA Bar, Mr. Nappen is admitted to the United States Supreme Court.

Mr. Nappen is a well-known author for his books on New Jersey Gun, Knife and Weapon Law. His current book, Nappen II: New Jersey Gun, Knife and Weapon Law, is available at most gun stores (for a dealer listing—check the website). This book explains over 150 topics in an easy-to-read question and answer format with special comments from Mr. Nappen's 15 years of experience handling firearm and weapon cases. His recent articles have appeared in Blade magazine concerning knife law and in Knives 2002 and Sporting Knives 2003, published by Krause Publications. His first book, Nappen on New Jersey Gun Law, sold out the first printing of over 5,000 copies. Many honest citizens have contacted, confided to and thanked Mr. Nappen that the information helped to save them from what could have been a disaster in their lives and liberty.

The NJ Courts have declared: "When dealing with guns, the citizen acts at his peril." Because of this, law-abiding gun, knife and weapon owners must know and exercise their rights. To protect oneself, Mr. Nappen has created a system in which your basic constitutional protections are summed up as three simple rules. These three rules are explained thoroughly in NAPPEN II. It's a must read for any gun, knife or weapon owner in NJ.

Mr. Nappen is a Life Member of the National Rifle Association and is a certified instructor in Rifle, Pistol, Shotgun and Home Safety. An avid hunter and fisherman, he and his family have spent many weekends target shooting, boating, fishing and hunting.
