Limited species available in 2022

The nursery is currently short staffed and the catalog reflects the limited species available for this year. Please adjust your planting plans accordingly.

Anticipated 2023 species

Following the spring 2022, the Forest Service will have a better idea of species availability for 2023. We are hoping to have Eastern hemlock available for the first time in tubes and/or bareroot. Due to weather and natural seed cycles, we will have a very limited number of Northern red oak in 2023.
