Financial Literacy Pedagogy and Applications: Teachers Teaching Teachers (T3)

An Active, Participatory, Working Spring Conference

DATE: May 5, 2011, 9AM – 1PM

LOCATION: New Jersey Hospital Association
760 Alexander Road Princeton, NJ

About the Conference:

T3 is designed to provide teachers with usable, practical, time-tested ideas that have been proven to work successfully. This T3 Conference is a "Working Conference," facilitated by expert teachers and trainers. The major part of the conference will be devoted to Break-Out Sessions of "Working Groups" that will be divided by grade level and population taught. As made possible by the support of the many generous sponsors of the Financial Literacy Summit, as well as the sponsors listed below, the cost of the conference is free and lunch will be provided.

Who Should Attend:

This conference is open to P/K – 12 teachers and adult educators who work with financial concepts in their classrooms and training sites. Teachers and trainer attendees may, for example, be teaching Family and Consumer Sciences, Consumer Math, Business, Economics, Career preparation and technical education, including school-to-work skills, Social Studies, Language Arts/Literacy in grades P/K - 8. Teachers responsible for teaching the new High School graduation requirement of 2.5 credits in business, economic, financial and entrepreneurial literacy are also encouraged to attend.

Participants will be awarded (4) Professional Development hours.

What to Bring:

Participants are expected to join active, facilitated discussions in their Working Groups. The aim is to bring 50 copies of one handout to share with your group that you find is very effective in teaching financial literacy, such as a specific lesson from a book, a game or simulation, a website, or a worksheet. Participants should be prepared to share how they use this and why it is effective. Handouts are limited to one, 2-sided page and are required for a free registration.
