Office of Professional Standards, Licensing, and Higher Education Collaboration

SUBJECT: Follow Up on Fall 2010 Data Collection on Teacher and Principal Evaluation Systems

Last fall, in response to federal requirements around the use of State Fiscal Stimulus Funds, all districts were asked to participate in a data collection on the systems they currently use for teacher and principal evaluations. In general, your responses to this request were timely and we appreciate your cooperation in that intensive effort.

However, many of you will need to resubmit one piece of information which you gave to us incorrectly the first time. As noted at the time of data collection, one of the federal requirements around this information is to make it publicly available. The New Jersey Department of Education is required to create an index page containing accurate Internet links/URLs to access this information for each district. Unfortunately, in reviewing the district submissions, we have discovered that many of you merely gave us your district home page website address, and not the link that would take an individual directly to the evaluation system information and current data. Without the direct link, we are not fulfilling the requirement for public transparency because in most cases it is unclear how to find the evaluation information from the home page location.

In addition, Department staff are checking the content of the information provided by each district. If you have given us an "empty" link, i.e., one to an empty site or a site "under construction," please be advised that you are not in compliance with the federal regulations, and we will be contacting you concerning your status.

Examples of Direct Links

The link provided by the School District of the Chathams is an example of the kind of direct link that we need you to provide: <http://www.chatham-nj.org/evaluations>. This link brings up the exact page where the information on evaluation begins. Compare this to the link that takes an individual to the district's home page: <http://www.chatham-nj.org/sdoc/site/default.asp>. From the home page an individual who wants to find the evaluation information would have to do a search in order to locate that specific page, which would eventually be found under the "Our District" tab. This latter example would not meet the transparency requirement.

Another good example can be found on the Bellmawr School District site:

http://www.bellmawrschools.org/apps/pages/index.jsp?uREC_ID=106404&type=d&termREC_ID=&pREC_ID=209723. This link takes readers to an evaluation overview page where additional links to evaluation system information are clearly available.

Districts Who Must Submit Corrected URLs

Please find attached an alphabetical list of all districts that need to submit updated URL information. We need this information as soon as possible, and no later than February 18, 2011. As modeled in the attached table, please submit your county name and code, your district name and code, contact person, and corrected URL information to us at evaluationsurvey@doe.state.nj.us.

If you have further questions about your responsibilities, please call 877-454-3171 or email us at evaluationsurvey@doe.state.nj.us. Department staff will respond to your questions as quickly as possible. Thank you once again for your cooperation and attention to this matter.
