Fellow New Jerseyans:

I am happy to present the 2020 Institutional Profile Report for Rutgers, The State University of New Jersey, the first in my tenure as president. We prepared this report as a means of sharing timely, objective data about our educational and administrative operations.

Although the year presented enormous and unforeseen challenges related to the outbreak of COVID-19, we were still able to award more than 18,000 degrees, offer instruction to more than 70,000 students, and provide valuable service to the people of New Jersey, including essential research on the coronavirus and the development of a saliva test for COVID-19 now widely in use.

Rutgers is dedicated to our mission of teaching, research, and service to New Jersey. A member of the Association of American Universities since 1989, Rutgers is strengthened by the scholarly excellence of our faculty, the success of our students—many of whom earn international fellowships and scholarships, the award-winning innovations of our staff, and the contributions our more than 500,000 alumni make to New Jersey and the world.

This Institutional Profile Report provides valuable information and reflects our continuing commitment to New Jersey and its citizens.

Sincerely,

Rutgers, The State University of New Jersey

General Background

Chartered in 1766 as Queen's College, Rutgers, The State University of New Jersey, is the eighth oldest institution of higher learning in the United States. It has a unique history: from its inception as one of the nation's nine colonial colleges, Rutgers grew to become the land-grant college of New Jersey in 1864, and to assume full university status in 1924. Legislative acts of 1945 and 1956 designated it "The State University of New Jersey." The University of Newark merged with Rutgers in 1946, and the College of South Jersey in Camden joined in 1950. In 2013, most units of the former University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey were integrated into Rutgers. All of the university's property and educational facilities are imparted with a public trust for the higher education of the people of the State.

Today, Rutgers, The State University of New Jersey, is a leading national research university and the state of New Jersey's preeminent, comprehensive public institution of higher education. More than 70,000 students and 23,000 faculty and staff learn, work, and serve the public in locations throughout the state, including:

- Rutgers University-New Brunswick. Rutgers-New Brunswick is where Rutgers began more than 250 years ago. Ranked among the nation's finest research universities, Rutgers' flagship is a member of both the prestigious Association of American Universities (AAU) and the Big Ten Academic Alliance.
- Rutgers Biomedical and Health Sciences. RBHS is one of the nation's largest academic health centers and is aligned with Rutgers-New Brunswick. RBHS advances medical innovation, provides state-of-the-art patient care, and educates a full complement of healthcare professionals.
- Rutgers University-Newark. Rutgers-Newark is a diverse research university where opportunity meets excellence. It is an anchor institution in New Jersey's largest city and cultural capital.
- Rutgers University-Camden. Rutgers-Camden offers transformative learning experiences in a personalized setting, fosters high-impact research, and engages in solution-oriented service to the city and region around it.

University Mission

As the premier comprehensive public research university in the state's system of higher education, Rutgers, The State University of New Jersey, has the threefold mission of:

- providing for the instructional needs of New Jersey's citizens through its undergraduate, graduate, and continuing education programs;
- conducting the cutting-edge research that contributes to the medical, environmental, social, and cultural well-being of the state, as well as aiding the economy and the state's businesses and industries; and
- performing public service in support of the needs of the citizens of the state and its local, county, and state governments.

Each component of the university's mission reinforces and supports the other two.

Accreditation Status

In 2018, the Middle States Commission on Higher Education (MSCHE) reaffirmed the university's accreditation. Numerous programs at the university are also accredited by professional accreditation associations. See the Statement of Accreditation Status from MSCHE reprinted below for details.

DEFINITIONS

Branch Campus - A branch campus is a domestic or international location of an institution that is geographically apart, independent of the primary/main campus. The branch campus is considered independent of the main campus if it is permanent in nature; offers courses in educational programs leading to a degree, certificate, or other recognized educational credential; has its own faculty and administrative or supervisory organization; and has its own budgetary and hiring authority. (34 CFR §600.2)

Additional Location - An additional location is a domestic or international location, other than a branch campus, that is geographically apart from the primary/main campus and at which the institution offers at least 50 percent of the requirements of an educational program. (34 CFR §602.22) ANYA ("Approved but Not Yet Active") indicates that the location is included within the scope of accreditation but has not yet begun to offer courses. This designation is removed after the Commission receives notification that courses have begun at this location. ANYC ("Approved but Not Yet Closed") indicates that the institution has requested that the location be officially closed through the substantive change process. The location is currently included within the scope of accreditation but the institution will be stopping all operations at this location in the near future. The institution should inform the Commission (via email at sc@msche.org) of the date that operations cease. This designation is removed after the Commission receives notification that courses have stopped at this location and the location is no longer listed on the SAS.

Other Instructional Sites - MSCHE defines an other instructional site as any off-campus site, other than those meeting the definition of a branch campus or an additional location, at which the institution offers one or more courses for credit. Sites designated as an other instructional site do not require substantive change approval. However, substantive change approval is required to reclassify an other instructional site to or from a branch campus or additional location.

Distance Education Programs - Fully Approved, Approved (one program approved) or Not Approved indicates whether or not the institution has been approved to offer diploma/certificate/degree programs via distance education (programs for which students could meet 50% or more of the requirements of the program by taking distance education courses). Per the Commission's Substantive Change policy, Commission approval of the first two Distance Education programs is required to be "Fully Approved." If only one program is approved by the Commission, the specific name of the program will be listed in parentheses after "Approved."

Commission actions are explained in the policy Accreditation Actions.

Enrollment in Remediation Courses, Fall 2019

All newly admitted first-year students will take Rutgers University's placement tests. Transfer students entering Rutgers without an equivalent English writing course or math course will also be required to take placement tests. The placement tests are designed to provide information about students' individual skills in the English language and in mathematics. The test results will be used to place students in the courses and sections appropriate to their level of preparation.

Through basic, translational, and clinical research—spanning the life sciences, physical sciences, and social sciences—we drive education, medical breakthroughs, and economic development, while improving lives at home and in the global community.

Research at Our Schools

Many research activities within Rutgers Biomedical and Health Sciences are coordinated by the individual schools.

At Ernest Mario School of Pharmacy's five academic departments are actively engaged in high-impact research programs, in areas that include drug discovery and delivery, experimental therapeutics, and pharmacy practice.

New Jersey Medical School researches brain injury, immunology and infectious diseases, stem cells and regeneration, public health, and neurology. The renowned Global Tuberculosis Institute is also housed at the school.

Robert Wood Johnson Medical School houses major research institutes that focus on a range of topics, from cardiovascular medicine to women's health.

Rutgers School of Dental Medicine research extends from prevention of cavities and periodontal disease to potential therapies for cancer and drug-resistance illness.

School of Graduate Studies is dedicated to cutting-edge biomedical research, interdisciplinary collaboration, and professional development.

School of Public Health studies and promotes social health equity, houses a number of research centers, including the Center for Tobacco Studies and the Center for Health, Identity, Behavior & Prevention Studies.

School of Nursing researches ways to meet the needs of the most vulnerable populations through such as entities as the Francois Xavier Bagnoud Center and the Center for Community Health Partnerships.

School of Health Professions supports the research endeavors of its faculty and students and highlights those studies at an annual Research and Scholarship Symposium.

Research Centers and Institutes

These primary Rutgers Biomedical and Health Sciences research centers and institutes work with RBHS and other schools.

At the Brain Health Institute, more than 250 principal investigators focus on the biology of the central nervous system and its function and dysfunction to develop treatments for disorders using novel neuroscience tools.

The Center for Advanced Biotechnology and Medicine conducts cutting-edge, molecularly-focused basic research in infectious disease, cancer, and neurodevelopmental and neurodegenerative disorders including AIDS, influenza, leukemia/lymphoma, autism, and metabolic disease.

Child Health Institute of New Jersey is dedicated to improving child health through the study of mechanisms underlying children's diseases.

The Environmental and Occupational Health Sciences Institute supports basic and clinical research in environmental and occupational chemical exposure and fosters programs in environmental health education and public policy.

The Institute for Health, Health Care Policy, and Aging Research facilitates collaboration among the social and behavioral sciences, clinical disciplines, basic sciences and related fields to research critical population health issues.

The Institute for Infectious and Inflammatory Diseases pursues novel approaches to detect, treat, and prevent a wide range of current and emerging diseases caused by infectious agents and harmful inflammation.

At Rutgers Cancer Institute of New Jersey, the state's only National Cancer Institute-designated Comprehensive Cancer Center, RBHS researchers transform laboratory discovery into clinical practice.

At the Rutgers Global Health Institute, faculty from a wide range of fields work alongside economists, engineers, climate scientists, human ecologists, lawyers, social workers, supply chain managers, and vector biologists to address global health issues.
