

Original

The New Jersey National Guard

July 23, 2021

U.S. Army Chief of Staff Gen. James C. McConville meets with Capt. Lara Hamade, commander of Alpha Company, 2-113th Infantry Regiment, 44th Infantry Brigade Combat Team during their rotation at the Joint Readiness Training Center at Fort Polk, La. JRTC provides realistic scenarios training units and leaders to synchronize combined arms operations, as part of a joint force in unified land operations. Hamade is New Jersey's first female infantry officer.

See insights and ads

Boost post

 178

7 comments 12 shares

Edit

Edit post

The New Jersey National Guard

Public

U.S. Army Chief of Staff Gen. James C. McConville meets with Capt. Lara Hamade, commander of Alpha Company, 2-113th Infantry Regiment, 44th Infantry Brigade Combat Team during their rotation at the Joint Readiness Training Center at Fort Polk, La. JRTC provides realistic scenarios training units and leaders to synchronize combined arms operations, as part of a joint force in unified land operations. Hamade is New Jersey's first female infantry officer.

Current View

The New Jersey National Guard

Public

U.S. Army Chief of Staff Gen. James C. McConville meets with Capt. Lara Hamade, commander of Alpha Company, 2-113th Infantry Regiment, 44th Infantry Brigade Combat Team during their rotation at the Joint Readiness Training Center at Fort Polk, La. JRTC provides realistic scenarios training units and leaders to synchronize combined arms operations, as part of a joint force in unified land operations.

The original post may be viewed at <https://nj.gov/military/history/archives/njng-social-media>