MESSAGE FROM THE CHAIRMAN

$592 MILLION
IN PRODUCTION REVENUE

17,711 JOBS
IN NEW JERSEY

With the establishment of New Jersey's Film and Digital Media Tax Credit program in 2018, the Garden State entered a new era of prosperity in film and television production. After a record-breaking year in 2022, there was every reason to believe production numbers would climb even higher.

Unfortunately, just as the pandemic hampered industry growth in prior years, the Screen Actors Guild (SAG) and Writers Guild of America (WGA) strikes forced companies to unexpectedly halt production in 2023. We can only wonder what might have been.

Despite this development, there was much to celebrate. We've witnessed steady progress in the development of studios in Bayonne, Newark and, of course, the Netflix studio at Fort Monmouth. 2022's Oppenheimer, which filmed partially in Princeton, grossed nearly a billion dollars worldwide at the box office in 2023, and won the Academy Award for Best Picture. Additionally, seven feature films that filmed in New Jersey were selected for the 2024 Sundance Film Festival. And regardless of any strike, the state was teeming with zombies, jokers, spies, farmers, marines, mean girls and FBI agents. In what amounted to eight months' worth of work, New Jersey created 17,711 jobs and generated a staggering $592 million dollars in revenue from production. For perspective, in 2021, New Jersey recorded just over $500 million in revenue for the entire year.

With all our challenges, New Jersey's production industry is prospering and growing, and the Garden State remains poised for greater future success.

While budgets remain tight, I have no doubt New Jersey's industry-leading tax incentives will continue to attract the production slates of every network and studio. Producers also recognize our state for having an incredibly large and experienced workforce, cooperative local governments and an ever-expanding infrastructure of rental houses, stages and service providers who stand ready to bring their creative vision to life.

MESSAGE FROM THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

I have filmed in twenty-five states and twenty-two countries and in all of those experiences, I have never encountered a film commission as engaged and beneficial to filmmakers as is the NJ Motion Picture and Television Commission--and that is in large part due to the guidance of my predecessor, Steven Gorelick. The state owes a debt of gratitude to Steven and his 44 years of dedicated service.

The state is also indebted to Governor Phil Murphy, First Lady Tammy Murphy and the state legislators who have built a robust tax incentive program that is the spine – and muscle – that pulls filmmakers from all over the world to create their stories here in New Jersey.

While 2023's double work stoppages had a negative impact upon the entertainment industry as a whole, the top-shelf tax incentives offered by New Jersey – along with the state's wealth of unique locations and impressively large and experienced workforce – kept the state busy as studios and networks raced to begin filming before the strike deadline. While shy of the record set in 2022, New Jersey still scored a box office of $592 million in qualified spend for the strike-shortened year.

Utilizing my industry contacts for a proactive approach to business development, I have begun my tenure as executive director by making regular trips (already two in the first handful of months) to studios, networks, agencies and production companies nationwide. Our goal is simple: drill deeper within the ranks of heads-of-production, governance officers, tax incentive executives, agents and showrunners so that when someone in the decision-making chain-of-command asks, “Where should we film?” at least one person sitting at the table will answer, “New Jersey.” When those two words are said aloud, we’ve improved our odds for more production, more jobs and bigger qualified spends in our own backyard.

New looks and approaches for our newsletters, website and social media content are underway, and our team has embarked upon weekly visits to our stage owners, post-production facilities, set construction shops, grip and electric vendors and motion picture camera rental houses. Building these relationships is the best way to create a team approach between the Commission and our network of industry support vendors. Seeing this incredible, fast-growing infrastructure firsthand is also the best way to build a better pitch when we share our state’s “assets” to the studio decision-makers and filmmakers (and believe me when I say that New Jersey is fast on the way to being second-to-none when it comes to this industry support network).

Fall and Winter in 2024 is already looking great: as of this writing, no fewer than eleven major projects are in various forms of pre-production with principal photography starting in September. When “action!” is called, I am certain that the NJMPTVC will have continued to raise the bar for the nation’s best “concierge-style” film commission... and I’m overjoyed to now be a part of the team.

ECONOMIC IMPACT REPORT

Despite the strikes by the Writers Guild of America (WGA) and Screen Actors Guild (SAG,) the script for 2023 had a happy ending:

- 547 projects filmed in the New Jersey in 2023 and accounted for a total revenue of $592.4 million in qualified spend.
- 2023 had a total of 2,760 shoot days and had an average daily spend of $215,688 (the average daily spend in 2017 -- the last full year prior to Governor Murphy's signing of the Garden State Film and Digital Media Jobs Act into law -- was $24,089).
- 2023's tax incentive projects created 17,711 jobs-- an increase over 2022's 15,411 total jobs.

Examples of how the Film and Digital Media Tax Credit program is working in New Jersey are many—including projects such as, "American Sports Story: Aaron Hernandez." This series employed between 100-150 people on its crew and anywhere from 50 to 100 daily extras across 110 shoot days (Gladiator reported spending $2.4 million in wages for extra talent alone). Ryan Murphy's show, American Horror Stories, had a similar crew size and employed over 1,000 extras across 72 filming days, for a total of $1.7 million alone in salaries for background talent.

Consider how dollars were spent -- and spread throughout the economy -- on the film, "Relay," which shot for nineteen days in Hudson, Essex and Union Counties: out of a grand total of $303,000 spent on studio expenses at Parlay Studios in Jersey City, the film spent $160,000 on stage rental, $30,000 on utilities and $30,000 on other related production purchases (this does not include the $201,500 spent on set construction materials). Across the 20 other locations where filming occurred, over $1.3 million was spent on site fees and rentals, and an additional $415,000 was spent throughout the state on expenses such as meals, police and firemen, equipment and car rentals, office supplies and phones.

2023 was another banner year of recognition for the New Jersey film industry: "Your Monster," "Exhibiting Forgiveness," "Rob Peace" and "Presence" all premiered at the Sundance Film Festival, while "Y2K" and "Thank You Goodnight: The Bon Jovi Story" were selected to screen at South by Southwest. The Monmouth County-shot, "Mean Girls" feature made $104 million worldwide against a $36 million budget... and on the television side, the series premiere of, "The Walking Dead: The Ones Who Live" drew 1.3 million viewers on AMC and was the most-watched episode ever on AMC+.

The list of New Jersey success stories is growing longer every year and showcases the state as fertile ground for the imagination industry, and a great place to live and work.

CALCULATING THE QUALIFIED SPEND
Of 2023's total film and television in-state productions, six percent participated in the New Jersey film tax incentive program and accounted for $538 million of the year's total $592 million qualified spend. The remaining 94% of in-state projects did not use -- or did not qualify -- for the incentive program; the total spend for these non-tax incentive productions was $54 million.
For non-tax incentive productions, the NJMPTVC gathers the total number of filming days directly from the production companies or from the 182 municipalities that issue film permits. The total qualified spend is then calculated using the widely adopted Association of Film Commissioners International (AFCI) production revenue calculator and adjusts for inflation using data obtained from the U.S. Department of Labor Bureau of Labor Statistics' Consumer Price Index (CPI).

2023 PRODUCTION HIGHLIGHTS

Here are some highlights of the 527 projects that filmed in New Jersey in 2023:

Joker: Folie à Deux

FEATURE FILM HIGHLIGHTS

Joker: Folie à Deux, the follow up to the critically acclaimed and highly successful Joker, which was among the first films to utilize our state's then brand-new incentives back in 2018, pairs Joaquin Phoenix with Lady Gaga, and is directed by Todd Phillips. The former Garden State Cancer Center in Belleville and the Pulaski Skyway served as locations for this dark tale set in Gotham's Arkham Asylum.

Paramount Pictures' hit 2004 comedy Mean Girls, filmed partly at Montclair High School, was so successful that it was adapted into a hit Broadway show. That musical production got its big break to sing and dance on the big screen in Mean Girls, which filmed at the former Mater Dei Prep school in Middletown, along with other locations in Colonia, Morristown and North Arlington. The movie stars Jon Hamm, Angourie Rice, Renee Rapp, Tim Meadows, Busy Phillips and Tina Fey, and is directed by Samantha Jayne and Arturo Perez, Jr.

A mystery unravels at a farm in New Jersey in the feature film Echo Valley, which stars Julianne Moore, Sydney Sweeney and Domhnall Gleeson. Producers include Kevin J. Walsh and Ridley Scott, and the film was directed by Michael Pearce. Extensive filming took place in Delaware Twp, Rockaway Twp, Montclair and Lambertville.

Nonnas is based on the true story of Joe Scaravella, who left his dead-end job to open the restaurant Enoteca Maria on Staten Island employing grandmothers to work the kitchen. Directed by Steven Chbosky, the film stars Vince Vaughn, Lorraine Bracco, Drea de Mateto, Campbell Scott and Edison native Susan Sarandon. Filming took place at the closed Spirito's Restaurant in Elizabeth, along with locations in Paterson, Bayonne, Rahway, Edison, Jersey City, Newark and Avenel.

Mean Girls

Nonnas

It Ends With Us

Based on the popular novel by Colleen Hoover, the feature film It Ends with Us stars Blake Lively, Brandon Sklenar and Justin Baldoni, and was directed by Justin Baldoni. The movie was shot in Plainfield, Weehawken, Newark, Harding Township, Chatham, Parsippany-Troy Hills, Hoboken and Jersey City.

A former criminal's life is turned upside down when his family shows up for a long-awaited reckoning in the comedy Riff Raff. Bill Murray, Ed Harris, Dustin Hoffman, Jennifer Coolidge, Pete Davidson and Gabrielle Union star, and Dito Montiel directs. Filming took place in Mountainside, Montclair, Bayonne, Plainfield, Orange, Clifton, Clark, Passaic, Livingston and Mahwah.

In 1999, a group of teens navigate havoc at the stroke of midnight in the feature film Y2K. Jaeden Martell, Julian Dennison, Alicia Silverstone and Clifton native Rachel Zegler star, while Kyle Mooney directs. Filming took place at the Clark Recreation Center, as well as in Clifton, Paterson, Ringwood, Union, Ramsey, Livingston, Woodland Park and Chatham.

Relay

In Relay, a fixer who handles off-the-books exchanges is hunted down after protecting a whistleblower. Riz Ahmed and Sam Worthington star, and David Mackenzie directs this feature film that shot in Harrison, Hoboken, Jersey City, Newark, Union and Weehawken.

New Jersey filmmaker Kevin Smith, whose career took off back in 1994 after his no-budget independent film Clerks screened at the Sundance Film Festival, returned to his Jersey roots once again to direct his new feature film The 4:30 Movie. A coming-of-age comedy based on Smith's youth, the film stars Austin Zajur and is set in Atlantic Highlands. Filming took place in Atlantic Highlands, Long Branch, and Middletown.

Bill Murray - "Riff Raff"

Speaking of Sundance, we are very proud to report that of the films chosen for competition in the 2024 Sundance Film Festival, seven filmed in New Jersey. Three of those films shot in 2022 (A Different Man, Ponyboy and I Saw the TV Glow), while four of those movies filmed in the Garden State in 2023. They include Rob Peace, Exhibiting Forgiveness, Presence and Your Monster.

Rob Peace, recently picked up for distribution by Republic Pictures, is an adaptation of the non-fiction book The Short and Tragic Life of Robert Peace, the true story of an inner-city kid who attends Yale University but must deal with the demons of his past. The film stars Chiwetel Ejiofor, Mary J. Blidge and Stephan James and is the directorial debut of Chiwetel Eliofofor, best known for his Oscar-winning turn in 12 Years a Slave. Rob Peace filmed in Newark, East Orange, Sandy Hook and Jersey City.

In Exhibiting Forgiveness, a Black artist's success is derailed by an unexpected visit from his estranged and troubled father. André Holland, Andra Day and Aunjanue Ellis-Taylor star, and Titus Kaphar directs. Filming took place in Allendale, Montclair, Paterson, Bayonne, Kearny, Orange, Hillside, East Orange and West Orange.

A suburban house is inhabited by an unknown force in the feature film Presence. Directed by Steven Soderbergh, the film stars Lucy Liu, Chris Sullivan and Julia Fox, and was filmed entirely in a house in Cranford.

Finally, a young lady moves home only to find that the terrifying monster that inhabited her closet as a child is alive and well in the feature film Your Monster. Melissa Barrera, Tommy Dewey and Meghann Fahy star, Caroline Lindy directs and filming took place in Hoboken, Elizabeth, and Newark.

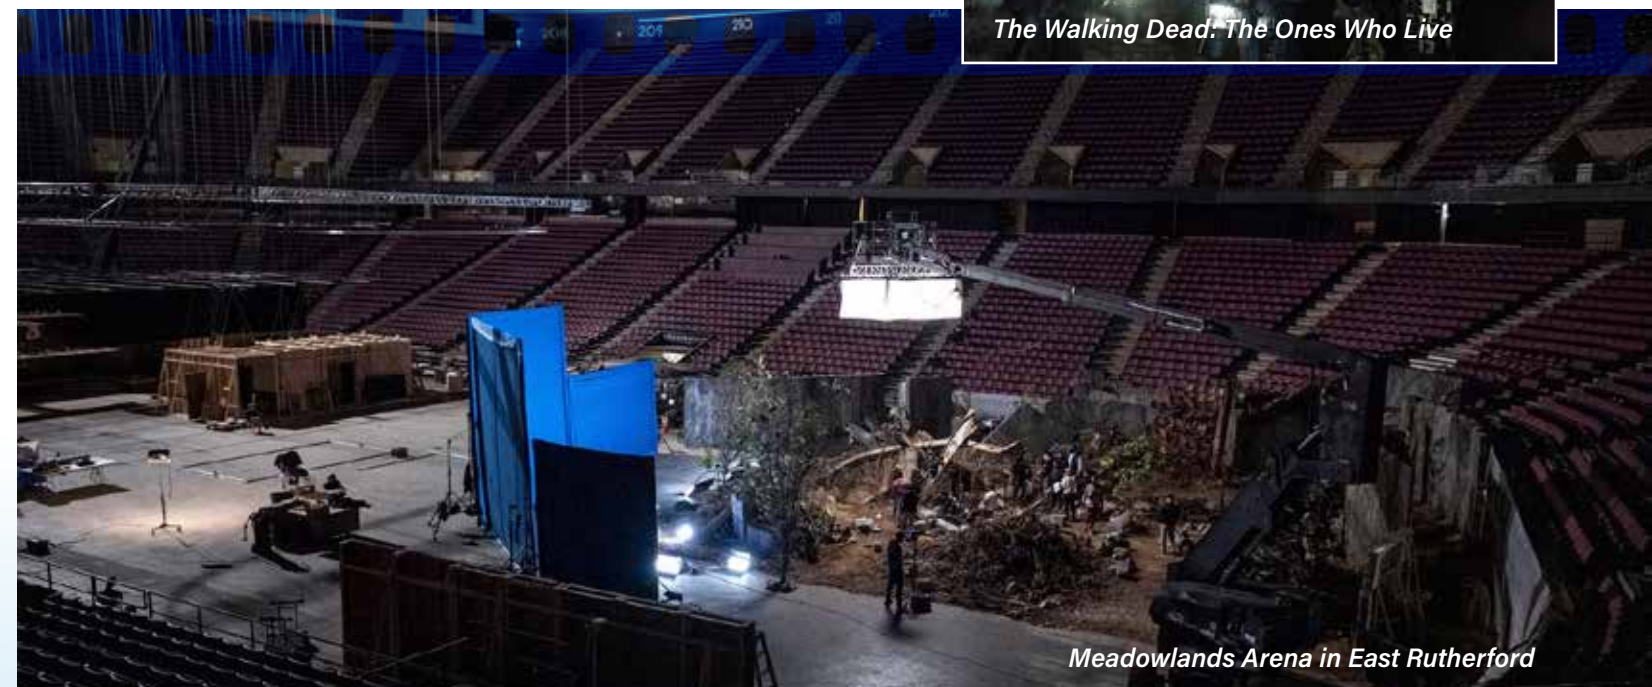

SCRIPTED TELEVISION HIGHLIGHTS

Billy Crystal plays a child psychiatrist who meets a troubled boy shortly after losing his wife in Before. This nine-episode series was written by Eric Roth and Sarah Thorp and partly directed by Barry Levinson. Filming took place in Moonachie, Kearny, Jersey City, East Orange, Paterson, Wayne, Newark, Glen Ridge and Hoboken.

American Sports Story: Aaron Hernandez is a dramatic series that re-examines the troubled life of former New England Patriots football star Aaron Hernandez. Ryan Murphy and Brad Falchuk's new take on the story stars Josh Andrés Rivera, Jake Cannavale, Lindsay Mendez and Patrick Schwarzenegger and is directed by Paris Barclay, the first Black and first openly gay president of the Directors Guild of America. Filming took place throughout New Jersey playing as Massachusetts, Connecticut, Indiana, Florida, and California, including the Florham Park Sports Dome as the Patriots Practice Facility and the University of Florida's football stadium, Passaic Valley Regional High School as Bristol Central High School in Connecticut and East Orange General Hospital representing Cedars-Sinai Medical Center in Los Angeles.

A much-anticipated spin-off, AMC's The Walking Dead: The Ones Who Live, picks up Rick Grimes' story after his last TWD appearance. Andrew Lincoln and Dania Guira reprise their popular roles, and Greg Nicotero directs. The series takes place in Yellowstone National Park and the Cascades Mountains, and filming took place in Ringwood State Park, Branch Brook Park in Newark, Carlstadt, the closed Meadowlands Arena in East Rutherford, Lyndhurst, Bayonne, Rahway, Hamilton Park in Jersey City, Wayne, West Milford, Springfield and Alpine.

Your Monster

Meadowlands Arena in East Rutherford

New Jersey was treated to even more scares with the arrival of 20th Television's third season of American Horror Stories. Jessica Barden and Lisa Rinna star. Filming took place in East Orange, West Orange, Morristown, Hoboken, Holmdel, Jersey City, Maplewood, Middletown, Newark, Parsippany, Peapack & Gladstone, Sandy Hook, South Orange and Wayne.

Severance, the popular series that takes the subject of employee work-life balance to a whole new level, returned for a second season and stars Adam Scott, Patricia Arquette, Gwendoline Christie, Bob Balaban, Merritt Wever and Alia Shawkat. Director Ben Stiller once again utilized Bell Works in Holmdel, along with additional filming in Middletown and Alpine.

A missing boy is also front and center in Eric, a miniseries about a grief-stricken father who befriends Eric, the monster that lives under his missing son's bed. The limited series stars Benedict Cumberbatch, Gabby Hoffman, Dan Fogler and Donald Sage Mackay, and is directed by Lucy Forbes. Newark, Paterson and Jersey City were all utilized for filming.

The series FBI: Most Wanted returned to New Jersey to film its 4th season. The show, which follows a crack division of FBI agents tasked with tracking and capturing notorious criminals on the FBI's Most Wanted List, stars Alexa Dalvalos, Dylan McDermott and Julian McMahon, was created by Rene Balcer, and is executive produced by Dick Wolf. Filming took place in Parsippany, Montclair, Little Falls, Bloomingdale, and Alpine.

Severance - Bell Works in Holmdel

TV UNSCRIPTED TELEVISION HIGHLIGHTS

New Jersey has long been a popular destination for reality television producers, and 2023 proved to be no different. Real Housewives of New Jersey returned to its roots for its 14th season, starring Daniella Cabral, Rachel Fuda, Jennifer Fessler, Jennifer Aydin, Jackie Goldschneider and Teresa Guidice. Filming took place at an assortment of mansions, restaurants and bars in Franklin Lakes, Englewood, Cranford, Emerson, Livingston, Westwood and Newark.

The New York Jets, who famously play their football games in New Jersey, along with star quarterback Aaron Rogers, were front and center in the 20th season of HBO's Hard Knocks, which filmed in Secaucus, Hoboken, and East Rutherford.

True crime docudramas are always in high demand, and these productions found their way into the Garden State in droves. Among them were Pathological: The Lies of Joran van der Sloot, a miniseries that filmed in Atlantic City shortly before the killer finally confessed to murdering a woman in Aruba in 2005; Love After Lockup: Innocent After Lockup, a three-episode miniseries that follows individuals wrongly incarcerated and their struggle to adjust to life after exoneration, which filmed in Camden, Highlands and Trenton; Very Scary People, now in season five, is hosted by Donnie Wahlberg and follows the steps of 1990's Midwestern serial killer Larry Hall. The program filmed in the West Orange town hall jail cells. Buried in the Backyard, also in its fifth season filmed in Livingston, and documents the disappearance of a champion boxer and his eventual discovery in a New Jersey backyard; The Matthew Shepard Story: An American Hate Crime, filmed in Maplewood; and finally in Disappeared: The Bradley Sisters, retired detective Pam Childs assembles a group of other retired detectives to reopen one of the most puzzling and devastating cases known to Chicago. Filming took place in Riverdale.

This Old House

In With The Old - Ocean Grove

Some New Jersey homes and buildings have interesting stories, and several programs are ready to bring those stories into the spotlight. In with the Old, now in its fifth season, focuses on renovating historical homes across the country, and in the Garden State production set their sights on a 140-year-old Victorian cottage in Ocean Grove; This Old House kicked off its remarkable 45th season in Glen Ridge to remodel an 1887 Victorian-style home; the long running and ever-popular House Hunters filmed in Fairfield, Chester and Wildwood; and finally Mysteries of the Abandoned, which filmed in the old Essex County jail in Newark, explores intriguing stories behind historically decommissioned sites

Food is a big deal in New Jersey and many programs highlight New Jersey's fantastic offerings: In Legends of the Fork, the much-beloved "Cake Boss" Buddy Valastro travels to iconic restaurants to uncover their culinary secrets. Fiore's House of Quality, Antique Bakery, M+P Biancmano and St. Vito's Italian Deli in Hoboken were among the featured restaurants. In another series titled Buddy Valastro's Cake Dynasty, Buddy shares a dramatic glimpse into his business and his family. Filming took place in Buddy's Jersey City studio and at certain rest stops along the Garden State Parkway and New Jersey Turnpike. Bikes to Bites is a travel food show that follows its host to local restaurants, capturing incredible foods in amazing cities. New Jersey locations include Bradley Beach, Sea Bright, Highlands, Rumson and Red Bank. The kitchen renovation show, Kitchen Nightmares, which features celebrity chef Gordon Ramsey, returned for a much belated 8th season and shot in Wayne, Dumont, Long Branch and Jersey City; Three celebrity chefs travel the U.S. by motor home to learn about the American way of life and culinary diversity in the second season of the series Road Trip America. Stops were made in Long Beach Island and neighboring campgrounds.

Finally, what would New Jersey be without a little music? The stars were shining brightly in Newark as the long-running awards show, the MTV Music Video Awards, returned to New Jersey for the second year in a row, and the third time overall. An incredible lineup of musical talent took center stage at the Prudential Center in Newark, including Doja Cat, Miley Cyrus, GloRilla, David Guetta and Bebe Rexha, and Taylor Swift once again won Video of the Year, this time for her song "Anti-Hero."

COMMERCIAL HIGHLIGHTS

While the landscape for product advertising has been evolving, our commercial production numbers remain strong. Eli Manning filmed a commercial spot for Verizon at MetLife Stadium, comedian Pete Davidson filmed two Taco Bell spots in Passaic, professional athletes Richard Sherman and Ryan Fitzpatrick filmed an Amazon spot in Westfield, the Foundation to Combat Antisemitism filmed a public service announcement in Montclair, Red Bull filmed a spot for their Red Bull Rampage Mountain Biking Event at Liberty State Park, New York Jets head coach Robert Salah filmed a Colgate spot in Gillette and Hoboken was the location for a Philadelphia Cream Cheese commercial that utilized local residents as on-screen talent. Of course, the crown jewel of all commercial productions are Super Bowl commercials, and New Jersey hosted two of them: An E*Trade commercial spot was filmed in Chatham Borough for Super Bowl LVIII and a Pepsi Zero Sugar spot was filmed at Cinelease Studio Caven Point in Jersey City for Super Bowl LVII.

SHORT FILM HIGHLIGHTS

Our Commission believes independent and student short films deliver value in drawing positive attention, creating business and encouraging burgeoning filmmakers to bring future projects to the Garden State. Some highlights of the year include Heart, a dramatic tale that deals with one family's pain, was filmed in Paterson and directed by Malia Obama (Barack Obama's daughter). Heart was nominated for Best Short Film at the 2024 Sundance Film Festival, creating additional New Jersey buzz at the prestigious event. Keith David stars as an aging musician in Betty & Blue, which filmed in Orange, Newark and Verona Park. And White Rabbit, which tells the tale of a couple's struggle to remain safe after they move next door to a mobster, was shot in Maplewood and is set to premiere at the 2024 Tribeca Film Festival.

MUSIC VIDEO HIGHLIGHTS

The American indie-pop duo Cafuné filmed their music video "Perspective" at the Cranford parking deck, American actress and LGBT advocate Laverne Cox filmed the music video "Summertime: A TripHopera" at a mansion in Tinton Falls, Kiss guitarist Ace Freely filmed a music video for his brand new song "10,000 Volts" at Wreck'd Studios in Tinton Falls, and finally tour visuals were filmed at Columbia High School in Maplewood for Newark native and Grammy Award winner Lauryn Hill.
