With the New Jersey Highlands Water Protection and Planning Council

The Highlands Council works in partnership with the 88 municipalities and 7 counties of the Highlands to encourage a regional approach to protecting the sensitive natural and cultural resources of this area. The Highlands Council provides planning grants, technical expertise, and coordination with other state agencies to help Highlands communities maximize the environmental and economic benefits of being located in this important region. Although the Highlands covers less than 15% of the state's land area, it is the source of drinking water for more than 70% of New Jerseyans.

The New Jersey Highlands includes 88 municipalities in parts of 7 counties: Bergen, Hunterdon, Morris, Passaic, Somerset, Sussex and Warren. It is also part of the 4-state federal Highlands Region.
