10	Please share brief information on your subdivisions overarching goals and values to provide context for this year's spending decisions	Overarching goals and values include lowering the overdose fatalities in the county, providing upstream prevention, and increasing recovery support services available. A general RFP was issued this past Spring with the opportunity for multiple awards for projects totaling $600,000, which align with any of the approved uses. Additionally, a RFP was issued for the enhancement/expansion of established Monmouth County Recovery High Schools, totaling $200,000, and $30,000 has been allocated for the development of a specialized youth postvention team. Furthermore, $1,650,000 has been allocated for several projects though the money has not been encumbered at this time since the projects are pending RFP process at this time.
11	How did you decide the best way to use the opioid abatement funds your subdivision received this reporting year? For example, did you rely on evidence-based or evidence-informed practices or strategies, the list of Opioid Remediation uses, a needs assessment, a strategic plan, or an epidemiological analysis? If yes, please explain.	The Opioid Settlement Advisory board met several times to review the approved uses, previously conducted needs assessment that were completed for the county comprehensive plan and other needs assessments available to the county that had been recently completed (did not perform new to not duplicate), and other relevant data from the alliances, OFRT, prevention coalition, etc. After review, needs and gaps were identified. The council then discussed ways to address the needs and gaps, proposed ideas for use in alignment with the approved uses and then voted on what to approve. Then approved ideas were submitted to County Administration and County Commissioners for approval. RFP was drafted based on that and proposals went through the competitive process and awarded accordingly.
12	In this reporting year (7/1/2024 - 6/30/2025), did your subdivision engage the public (e.g., town hall meeting, online survey, convened stakeholders) prior to deciding how to use the opioid abatement funds you received?	Yes, for one year funding

13	Please describe your public engagement/input efforts?	Focus Groups, county wide meetings, Monmouth Acts all already exist and were completed previously for the county comprehensive plan. Multiple needs assessments have already been completed that included public engagement and input. All of that information was utilized for the first round of planning. Information is continually collected through stakeholders and community partners across the various public meetings held throughout the reporting period. This year, a community survey was drafted via SurveyMonkey. The draft was reviewed and finalized with the Local Advisory Council on Substance Use Support Services (County LACADA) and the Opioid Advisory Council before being submitted to County Administration and the Board of County Commissioners for approval and publication. The survey link was shared through email, posted on the County website, and was converted into a QR code for further distribution.
14	Does your county/subdivision have a strategic plan?	No
15	Have you completed a Risk Assessment profile for demographic or geographic impact?	No
16	Did your subdivision fund any new programs using opioid abatement funds in this reporting year?	Yes

Since services are client-based, achievements are measured in the number of people services are provided to, how many of them are able to sustain sobriety, the hours of casework performed, and attendance at NA meetings or our peer-led recovery support group. Success can be difficult to quantify when working with community members who are at high risk for OUD relapses. The program often views it as a victory when someone consistently remains

13	Please state this program's statement of impact.	Throughout the year, Girl Scouts engage in a dynamic, enriching journey designed to foster personal growth, resilience, and connection. From the very beginning, they immerse themselves in a supportive and inclusive environment where they build lasting friendships, develop healthy and trusting relationships

13 cont.	Please state this program's statement of impact. cont.	with caring adult mentors, and acquire essential life skills that strengthen their confidence and emotional well-being. This year-long experience is carefully crafted to help each girl feel seen, heard, and valued — while nurturing leadership qualities, self-awareness, and a deep sense of belonging. The “Cocoons & Connections” program facilitated by staff provided programming to over 700 outreach (no cost) troops in Monmouth County. The objective of this program is to develop resilience and support systems. It’s essential that girl scouts (especially those from disadvantaged communities) have the tools to build resilience and establish strong support networks. The concept of a “cocoon” can serve as a powerful metaphor— representing a safe, nurturing environment where Girl Scouts can grow emotionally, mentally, and socially, especially during difficult or vulnerable times. Just as a cocoon provides protection and space for transformation, our program aims to create a similar space for Girl Scouts. In a world where peer pressure, stress, and uncertainty can lead youth toward risky behaviors, having a strong “cocoon” of trusted adults, peers, and healthy coping strategies can be the foundation for making positive choices. The 2-week camp experience hosts Girl Scouts at no cost including transportation to and from their school to camp. The goal of the camp experience is to build social and emotional development skills such as communication, healthy decision making, healthy relationships, peer support, confidence, courage and resiliency. Just as importantly, they’re empowered to listen to their inner voice and say “no” when something doesn’t feel right to them, reinforcing their autonomy, boundaries, and self-trust. Camp offers a unique opportunity for girls to expand their social circles by connecting with new friends from different communities, broadening their perspectives

In the heart of nature, they face challenges that help them grow stronger, more independent, and more self-assured. Whether it's learning how to tie a knot, navigating team activities, or simply enjoying quiet moments of reflection by the lake, each experience helps shape a deeper sense of self. Ultimately, this combination of year-round engagement and intentional summer programming provides girls with a consistent, safe and empowering foundation. It allows them to thrive emotionally, socially, and mentally – preparing them to become confident, compassionate and capable young leaders, both within Girl Scouts and beyond.
14	What key performance indicators are you tracking to ensure success of the program (for example, # of services provided, # of people served, # of naloxone kits distributed)?
	Number of participants served:	750
	Increased community awareness (please describe):	All of the girls served by the program are given the opportunity to attend the Holiday Event at Camp Sacajawea. This allows them to share the camp experience with their families, fostering meaningful bonding time in a space that already holds personal significance. These shared moments not only strengthen family relationships but also help each girl develop a stronger sense of identity, belonging, and emotional security.
	Other:	Programming for 700 Girl Scouts and Camp experience for 140 Girl Scouts. Participants attend one Girl Scout session each month, conveniently held at the school they already attend. By bringing programming directly to the girls' familiar and accessible environment, eliminating significant barriers, such as transportation limitations and scheduling conflicts that often prevent consistent participation in extracurricular activities. This intentional approach ensures that every girl has the opportunity to engage fully and regularly in Girl Scout programming, regardless of her

Whether through skill-building activities, values-based discussions, or community events, the repetition and consistency of these messages help to solidify key lessons around resilience, healthy decision making, and self-empowerment. This layered, ongoing approach creates a lasting impact— ensuring that the values and tools gained through Girl Scouting become deeply embedded in the lives of the girls.

K.E.Y.S mission is to provide an academically, innovative, and supportive environment which will serve to eliminate the achievement gap for adolescents who have been diagnosed with a substance use disorder and are seeking a sober, healthy lifestyle. 13	Please state this program's statement of impact.	The project creates a profound and measurable impact by humanizing the crisis and reducing stigma. Its effect is emotional and educational, changing perspectives and inspiring action.

The project changes the public's perception by putting a human face to addiction, making it clear that overdose victims are not "just statistics" but individuals from loving families. The display serves as a gut-wrenching but powerful memorial for families, allowing them to channel their grief into a positive force for change. Attendees often leave with a deeper sense of empathy and a commitment to doing more. For many who witness the exhibit, the experience shifts their perspective on addiction, moving it from an abstract news story to a personal and serious issue.
21	Please identify the procurement method utilized for this program, describe the procurement process, and explain why the procurement method identified was used for this program.	The prevention coalition of monmouth county puts on a huge display for the public. We wanted to target our specific community with the idea that prevention and education needs to start early, however the impact of the program would be intense for younger students. Counselors are available during the program if any student needs assistance.

20	Please explain how this program will address opioid use disorder and any co-occurring substance use disorders or mental health conditions through evidence-based or evidence-informed practices or strategies.	As social workers embedded within the police department, our program addresses opioid use disorder (OUD), co-occurring substance use, and mental health conditions through a community policing framework that prioritizes collaboration, prevention, and connection to care. Community policing emphasizes building trust between law enforcement, service providers, and residents, and this program applies that philosophy to the public health crisis of substance use. Using evidence-based practices, our social workers, with law enforcement assistance, identify individuals struggling with OUD and related conditions. Rather than relying solely on enforcement, we engage people through trauma-informed care and motivational interviewing to reduce stigma and encourage treatment readiness. We apply assessment/screening, outreach, referrals to resources during field contacts, at follow-up visits, and within community settings to quickly identify needs and connect individuals to appropriate supports. Through partnerships with treatment providers, recovery coaches, and mental health professionals, we ensure that individuals are referred to evidence-based services such as medication-assisted treatment (MAT), counseling, and peer support networks. Our approach includes “warm handoffs,” where social workers accompany or directly link individuals

20 cont.	Please explain how this program will address opioid use disorder and any co-occurring substance use disorders or mental health conditions through evidence-based or evidence-informed practices or strategies. cont.	to care, improving engagement.
21	Please identify the procurement method utilized for this program, describe the procurement process, and explain why the procurement method identified was used for this program.	By applying a community policing model, our program shifts the focus from punitive responses to collaborative solutions. Social workers and officers in conjunction with one another to address the root causes of substance use, reduce repeat encounters with law enforcement, and build healthier, safer neighborhoods. This integrated strategy not only addresses the immediate risks of OUD and co-occurring conditions but also strengthens long-term recovery and resilience across the community.
