FROM THE FRONT LINES

Battling COVID-19 with education and collaboration

Shawn Cochrane, PVSC's ESU coordinator, was recently interviewed by Deployed Logix (DLX) on the realities of responding to the COVID-19 Pandemic. Shawn is also a Bergen County EMS Training Center Rescue Technician Class Instructor and a member of the Bergen County Special Ops Group. In this capacity, he instructs rescue task force and rescue technicians.

DLX is an industry leader in the rapid deployment of disaster preparedness products for field hospitals, first responders, base camps, shelters in place and more.

They featured Shawn in their recent “From The Front Lines” publication. Shawn discussed how to best approach dangerous situations and how to work together to expedite response times.
