1 INTRODUCTION AND SUMMARY OF THE REQUEST FOR QUOTES

This Request for Quotes (RFQ) is issued by the Department of State, New Jersey Historical Commission (Using Agency). The Contract will be awarded in the State of New Jersey's eProcurement system, NJSTART \(www.njstart.gov\). The awarded Contractor is advised to read through all Quick Reference Guides (QRGs) located on the NJSTART Vendor Support Page for information.

1.1 PURPOSE AND INTENT

The purpose of this RFQ is to solicit quotes for a qualified contractor to serve as a designer and fabricator of a traveling exhibition, Revolutionary Lives: Living the American Experiment Then and Now, commemorating the 250th anniversary of the founding of the United States. Scope of work for this project includes: Creative Consulting, Art Direction, Creative Production, and Project Management. Deliverables to include: Exhibit Visuals for (10-12) free standing panels, full traveling exhibition, storage/ transportation solution (hardware TBD), and promotional / marketing creative assets (e.g. logo, brochure, and social media graphics) to promote the exhibit.

The maximum budget for this project is $125,000.00.

The New Jersey Historical Commission was charged by legislation in 2018 with "formulating and implementing a program for the observance of the historical aspects of the 250th anniversary of the independence of the United States and of the first Constitution of this State." In partnership with Crossroads of the American Revolution the Commission formed an initiative to plan for the anniversary called RevolutionNJ (www.revnj.org). RevolutionNJ developed a set of goals for the commemoration and a set of interpretive themes that strive to advance the role that history plays in public discourse, community engagement, education, tourism, and scholarship in New Jersey. The strategic and interpretive frameworks can be found here: <http://www.revnj.org/resources>.

The partnership assembled working groups comprised of individuals with varied backgrounds, expertise, and interests to envision programs for the commemoration that will tell a diverse and inclusive story about America's past that invites participation from all New Jerseyans. One of these working groups developed a proposal to create a traveling exhibition that would explore social and political tensions in New Jersey during the American Revolution through the stories and voices of a diverse array of historical figures. The exhibition is projected to travel throughout the state during the commemorative period (2026-2033) to various locations (e.g. schools, libraries, community centers, and more).

RevolutionNJ now seeks to engage a qualified contractor to design and fabricate the traveling exhibit. The contractor will utilize a completed exhibition script which includes text and selected images, create the visual and graphic layout of the traveling exhibit, fabricate the exhibit and shipping/ storage solution, and develop marketing collateral, exhibition brochure, and traveling exhibit logo. A final draft of the script is attached for reference.

It is the intent of the State to award a Contract to those responsible Bidder(s) whose Quote, conforming to this RFQ is most advantageous to the State of New Jersey (State), price and other factors considered. The State may award any or all price lines. The State, however, reserves the right to separately procure individual requirements that are the subject of the Contract during the Contract term, when deemed to be in the State's best interest. The State of New Jersey Standard Terms and Conditions (SSTCs) included with this RFQ will apply to all Contracts made with the State. These terms are in addition to the terms and conditions set forth in this RFQ and should be read in conjunction with them unless the RFQ specifically indicates otherwise.

Background and Exhibit Concept

The exhibit explores social and political tensions in New Jersey during the American Revolution through the stories and voices of a diverse array of historical figures. New Jersey was a "battleground state" in multiple ways. Beyond the number of military engagements fought in the state, it was a place where people of different races, genders, and social positions engaged in a battle of ideas to define loyalty, rebellion, and other concepts. Using primary sources as their foundation, a series of panels share historical New Jerseyans' differing perspectives on concepts such as loyalty and rebellion, personal choice and personal responsibility, and freedom and bondage. The exhibition encourages visitors to consider what was at stake in the Revolution for men, women, enslaved people, African Americans, Native Americans, immigrants, rich and poor, and to consider how social position and identity influenced the way people weighed risks and decisions during this time of political upheaval. Through a series of dialogic questions, visitors are asked to engage with the past by making connections to their present day.

4 SCOPE OF WORK

This competition is open to contractors with a strong portfolio of successful designs for museums, arts & cultural centers and/or commercial/trade shows.

Graphic Design:

The project will require the creation of a coherent graphic style across the exhibit, including a logo and the creation of graphic images to accentuate the exhibition script.

Exhibit Design and Fabrication:

The exhibition will comprise 12 lightweight standing panels (7' H x 3' W) or banners such as those used at trade shows, in order to make the exhibition easy for staff and host sites to set up and take down. One of these panels should be modular, allowing a host site to add their own text and images to a template (e.g. a digital solution via tablets/ screens). The panel exhibition will be designed according to ADA standards and Smithsonian best practices for exhibitions, taking into consideration font size, contrast, readability, height of text, etc. Expository text is written at a 9th grade reading level. The contractor should provide a solution for translating and displaying exhibit material in Spanish. We further propose making the panels accessible online as screen reader-friendly and/or printable PDFs so that communities unable to physically host the exhibit may make it available to their communities. Panels should be modular and able to fit in different configurations that take into consideration the various gallery spaces it will be displayed in (e.g. minimum recommended space of 500 square ft). Additionally, the panels must have a storage/ transportation solution (e.g. traveling cases and instructions) that ensures the protection of materials during travel and allow for easy installation.

Schedule:

Design -

- Feb 2025: Design phase in collaboration with Exhibition Curator
- March 2025: Exhibition design review by advisory committee
- April 2025: Finalize exhibition design and material

Production -

- May- June 2025: Fabrication and production phase (traveling exhibit panels, digital content, and brochures)
- July 2025: Delivery of Exhibits to contractor

Launch

- August 2025: Exhibits made available for pick up
- September 2025 - Dec 2027: Exhibit travels between sites in North, Central, and South Jersey

Completion of the design phase of the exhibit project is tentatively set for February 28, 2025, with launch of project for September 15, 2025.

4.1 TARGET AUDIENCES

In order to appeal to a broad audience including library users, community college students, and county park visitors, the exhibition includes vibrant imagery, short but powerful text, and a high energy tone. The contractor should create a contemporary look and feel that attracts a history-curious general audience. The exhibition script assumes that audiences have little prior knowledge of the historical events and actors of the Revolutionary period, and therefore must clearly highlight key takeaways, critical crisis points, and powerful emotional content of the featured stories. We propose fabricating a minimum of three copies of the exhibition to allow it to reach a greater number of sites during its run in North, Central, and South Jersey. Outreach efforts to secure host venues for the exhibition will involve leveraging state and local networks, such as: county cultural and heritage commissions, state and local libraries, and the NJ Department of Education to reach schools. An application or request process will be necessary for scheduling venues. Revolution NJ would be responsible for shipping and arranging transportation for the exhibition between locations.

4.2 DELIVERABLES AND FINAL ACCEPTANCE

The responsibilities of the contractor for the design phase of the project are as follows:

- Review RevolutionNJ Strategic Goals, Interpretive Framework, and exhibit script and establish the full scope of the project;
- Evaluate the proposed schedule and budget as they apply to the scope of the project;
- Prepare a design and fabrication schedule detailing the critical path, key milestones and deliverables for the entire project;
- Prepare plans and renderings that illustrate the key components of the exhibit, how these components are integrated with one another, how the exhibit will be configured, and how the exhibit will be assembled and disassembled.
- Finalize a projected fabrication and installation schedule;

-A minimum of three copies of the Traveling Exhibit which includes 12 Graphically Designed Panels (one of which is modular and adaptable by host) and a bilingual solution for Spanish.

- A manual or instruction guide on the assembly and disassembly of the exhibition units.
- Digital Version of the Traveling Exhibit (PDF)
- Marketing Collateral (e.g. Logo, Social Media Imagery, Posts)
- Exhibit Brochure (Digital and Physical)
