The Alfa Art Center A NJ Nonprofit Corporation

New Brunswick, NJ

The Alfa Art Gallery is a non-profit organization whose mission is to empower artists of all backgrounds, regardless of whether they are just starting out or coming from years of esteemed recognition. We are passionate about the visual arts and celebrate its unique ability to encourage communication, understanding, and even compassion across all boundaries. Through art, even the most divergent groups of people can find a common ground. Through our local, national, and international connections, we have provided over 780 artists the opportunity to display their works and create even more successes in the future. First established in 2007, Alfa Art Gallery has made this possible through 14 years of growth and development. This is exemplified not only by our spectacular exhibitions but also by our proactive online involvement. By using online programs, from YouTube to the virtual exhibition program, ArtSteps, the Gallery continued to serve its community by maintaining a space for various artists to express themselves, even during the recent pandemic crisis. As a part of the multicultural hub that is New Brunswick, Alfa holds a responsibility to showcase local artists and captivate new, more diverse audience members from its community. The city is a flourishing location for artistic growth. With the help of local organizations, Alfa Art Gallery is able to benefit these artists through programs, including the New Brunswick Art Salon exhibition, which occurs several times throughout the year. During the opening reception of each exhibition, student and community members are readily welcomed into the serene yet engaging artistic environment provided by Alfa Art Gallery. Together, they are given the space to discuss, in great depth, the artworks alongside the artists who created those works. With these moments in mind, Alfa Art Gallery continues to enrich itself with new contacts and connections with those of Middlesex County.

We believe the basic human need for meaning and self expression is best satisfied by the study and practice of the arts. An understanding of the arts helps describe, define, and ultimately deepen human experience. This must be an essential component of every child's basic education and a life-long pursuit. We create art to understand ourselves, each other, and the world around us. By making connections and expressing the otherwise inexpressible, art helps us to better understand the human experience. By its very nature, art provides the cohesiveness that is the cornerstone of human society. We envision a future when arts' learning is a basic component of every child's education and a respected life-long pursuit.

Friends of Yogi, Inc. d/b/a Yogi Berra Museum and Learning CenterLittle Falls, NJ

The Yogi Berra Museum & Learning Center's mission is to sustain the values that made Yogi Berra a national and New Jersey treasure — respect, teamwork, perseverance and excellence — through inclusive, culturally diverse, sports-based education exhibitions and programs that leverage our national pastime — and Yogi's unique role as 20th-century icon — to explore historical, cultural and social movements that extend far beyond the playing field. Whether it is using the example of Yogi's Italian heritage to examine the American immigrant experience, or artifacts from his D-Day service to investigate the impact of World War Two, or photographs of his anchoring the NY Yankee dynasty through baseball's integration and the demise of the Negro Leagues to uncover the history of structural racism in our country — the Museum's primary focus is on transforming Yogi's individual legacy into a platform for investigating the greater historical and cultural context of his life. Further, interdisciplinary and experiential exhibits and programs encourage visitors to consider ways in which Yogi's historic era sheds light on challenging social issues of today, providing a safe space for critically important conversations that align with Yogi's lifelong commitment to social justice and fair play.
