

New Jersey Office of the Ombudsman for Individuals with Intellectual or Developmental Disabilities and Their Families

June 25, 2026

Update in Office Point of Entry Guidelines:

As we enter a new chapter at the IDD Ombudsman office, we've made a slight change to streamline all points of entry for new inquiries and assistance. Through dedicated office channels, we can be reached on our main phone line, office email address and through our website form. The contact information is listed on our website. This provides a layer of protection for our constituents to make sure that no inquiry is missed. Please note that we will be forwarding new inquiries received via our individual emails to our main office address to prevent unnecessary delays in our response. The assigned Intake Coordinator will reach back out to the person in contact. Feel free to reach out to our office if you have any questions. Thank you!
